Separate university board voted

It is now up to Governor Daniel Walker whether a separate board of trustees will be created for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

At present, a single board serves both SIU Carbondale and the local university. Following earlier Senate approval, the Illinois House voted 94-58 Wednesday to sever ties between the two campuses, creating a separate and autonomous board for SIUE.

"This is a great day," State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D, Edwardsville) commented. "We are through being a stepchild of the Carbondale campus. It's our turn for a walk in the sunshine."

State Rep. Horace L. Calvo (D, Granite City), said separation can save $1 million in "super-administrators who are absolutely unnecessary."

Rep. Everett G. Streib (R, Glen Carbon) described the present board staff as "the result of a cumbersome, unwieldy situation in which the SIU board has been trying to govern two divergent campuses over 100 miles apart."

One-week shipping shutdown

All finishing and shipping departments and mills, offices at Granite City Steel will be shut down the week beginning July 8, with employees in those areas on vacation, Robert D. McElrath, vice president and general manager, said today.

Granite City Steel's officers will be open to receive orders, however, and production will continue in the iron and steel making departments, including the blooming mill, where steel ingots are converted into slabs. McElrath said July shipments are expected to be unusually low.

The market for steel mill products remains weak. In addition, many of the manufacturing plants Granite City Steel supplies regularly shut down in early July for plant-wide vacations. And one of the largest, the A. O. Smith Corp. auto frame plant, in Granite City, will be closed to prepare for the model changeover.

A proposal that Granite City's new secondary sewage treatment plant serve a vastly expanded area through connection with the Lansdowne primary treatment plant operated by the East Side Levee and Sanitary district is being studied by area

Relocate sewer due to overpass

A letter of understanding between Granite City and the Illinois Department of Transportation under which a major sanitary sewer line extending along the right-of-way of the new Chicago Avenue overpass will be relocated was approved by the Granite City Council Monday night.

Under terms of the proposal, the state will relocate and alter the present sewer which connects with the main line of the Granite City primary sewage treatment plant on the grounds of the Granite City Army installation as part of the overpass project.

The overpass, now under construction, will span the railroad tracks at the Army installation to carry EA Route 151, The Great River Road, south to Venice.

Extension of Route 151 from Nardin Avenue in Granite City to McKinley Bridge in Venice has been scheduled by the DOT for construction during the 1976 fiscal year.

Under terms of the agreement, the state will secure the temporary easement for construction of the new sewer on Granite City Army installation property, while the city agrees to negotiate for permanent easements necessary to the project.

The city also agrees in the document to maintain the relocated sewer, including junction chambers, manholes and all other appurtenances.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said the project will involve relocation of approximately 4,000 feet of a 48-inch sewer line at an estimated cost to the state of $500,000. Decision to relocate the sewer was reached, he said, after state engineers discovered that the overpass right-of-way was in line with the sewer, and that excavation for the overpass would place many thousands of tons of dirt over the present line.

The council Monday night approved three utility applications for street and alley openings. These included application by the Illinois Power Co. for four openings at the southeast corner of 21st Street, south of Nardin Avenue, at 21st Street and at Grand Avenue and Nardin Avenue. Nardin Avenue was granted permission for eight openings on the west side of 2nd Place, 500 feet west of Nardin Avenue, and the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. was granted permission for one opening at Pylong Road and State Street to extend a water main.

Council members were notified of intentions to file suits by residents of two homes in the 2000 block of Aubrey Avenue because of flood damages suffered by their residences in July 1963 when sewers backed into their homes.

The notices were filed in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen D. Moore, 2108 Aubrey Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonough, 3133 Aubrey Ave. The East St. Louis & Interurban Co. notified council members that work of installing an additional fire hydrant at Emert Avenue and Kilarney Drive has been completed.

Ambulance struck; 4 hurt

Four persons were injured, including the ambulance driver, when a Davis Funeral Home ambulance and a tractor-trailer truck collided at 20th Street and Madison Avenue at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday.

The ambulance was on a run to the hospital and was using its red lights and siren when the accident occurred.

The emergency vehicle was northbound on Madison Avenue heading toward St. Elizabeth Hospital and the truck was heading west toward downtown Granite City, on 20th Street, it was related.

The ambulance slowed and then proceeded into the intersection as the truck was entering the area. The ambulance driver swerved to the left to try and avoid the truck, it was asserted.

The truck driver put on the brakes, but the truck skidded against the right side of the ambulance. The injured were transferred to other ambulances.

Stephen Howe, 22, of 2000a Cleveland Blvd., who was driving the ambulance, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with hematomas to his scalp and right arm, cuts to his scalp, nose and right ear and an abrasion to his back. He was admitted.

He had been taking George Wright, 18, of 800 Main St., Venice, to the hospital after Wright became faint and dizzy after becoming too hot. Wright was released from the hospital officials, it was learned by the Press-Record this week.

The study is being made, it was learned, to provide secondary sewage treatment for an area that includes Madison, Venice and National City whose officials have objected to involvement in a program developed by the Metro-East Regional Treatment Association.

The MERTA proposal, calling for construction of a new secondary sewage treatment plant, would serve East St. Louis, Sauget and the levee district.

The proposal was made known to Granite City Council members Monday night by

Bicentennial panel named

A committee of eight persons to develop, organize, supervise and coordinate all efforts to be made in connection with next year's Bicentennial celebration in Granite City was appointed yesterday by Mayor Paul Schuler.

The appointments were announced following City Council action Monday night in which the aldermen approved a resolution authorizing Mayor Schuler to set up a Granite City Bicentennial Commission.

Casper Nighbooshtain, a Granite City attorney and a member of the city's legal staff, was named chairman of the committee.

Members include Norman Holsinger, Mrs. James Reese, Harold Brown, Edward F. Nesbitt, Mrs. Margaret Fennell, Mrs. Beverly Scroggins and Mrs. Norma Mendez.

The resolution approved by the council said that "the council feels that each citizen should be encouraged to participate in the Bicentennial by developing and implementing civic and historic projects for the city."

Search reversal praised

Granite City Steel officials voiced praise this week for a court order to suppress and quash a search warrant under which some of their internal records were seized by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The records are being returned to the plant, following the ruling by Chief Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman.

The judge determined that no false information had been submitted to the state, and that the absence of criminal activity or any presumption of it negated the issuance of a search warrant.

Granite City Steel Chairman N. P. Veeder commented Tuesday, "We are pleased that the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, as they charged in a complaint for a

Venice's bridge manager retires

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Henry McMillan is retiring as manager of the McKinley Bridge effective July 15. It was announced by Mayor William M. Ebersold at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday evening.

"We owe Henry a real debt of gratitude," Mayor Ebersold said. "He has been our bridge manager since Venice bought the bridge in 1958. He told me he intends to continue to live in Venice and will work with his replacement in brooking him in."

A new aldermanic Industrial Committee was appointed by Mayor Ebersold, consisting of Aldermen Nichols, John Ervin and George Mangiaracina. "We have never had an Industrial Committee and I think we should have one. It is always hard to attract new industry, but we need to make the effort," the mayor said.

Other committees appointed were Ordinances, Hank Stevens, Vogeles, and Lewis; Streets and Alleys, Ervin, Vogeles, and Nichols; Finance, R. H. Baerle, Oscar King, and Mangiaracina; Fire and Water, Ervin, Baerle, and King; Lights, Vogeles, Mangiaracina, (Continued on Page 1)

Chairman Veeder retiring

Retiring effective June 30 from Granite City Steel, Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman and chief executive, will continue as a resident of the metropolitan area and hopes to remain active through such voluntary tasks as the chairmanship of this fall's St. Louis United Way campaign.

He will remain on the board of National Steel Corporation, which acquired Granite City Steel in 1971. Top direction of the local plant has been assumed by President Howard M. "Pete" Lowe, and Robert D. McElrath has become vice-president and general manager. Veeder's career is considered unusual in that he has spent the past 41 years consecutively at Granite City Steel, serving in positions of steadily increasing responsibility.

A chemist, he invented Stoveburn, a patented process for making galvanized, corrugated roofing and siding.

In addition to remaining a National Steel director, Veeder hopes to remain on the boards of the First Granite City National Bank, Mercantile Trust Co., Holt Industries and General Steel Industries.

Veeder has been in the steel business since his graduation from Cornell University with a civil engineering degree in 1935. For a short time, he was employed as a laborer in a Pittsburgh plant of Bethlehem Steel Co. He came to Granite City Steel as an analyst in the chemical laboratory in January 1934, and has been with the company ever since.

Veeder was born June 5, 1910, in Pittsburgh, the son of the late Herman G. and Mabel M. Veeder. A brother, James M. (Continued on Page 1)

APPEALING FOR AID to reactivate the State Park Place special police unit was Joseph Boyer, speaking Monday night for the 12 volunteers in the unit. He is shown during the Namecki Town Board meeting as he requested about $9,000 from the township's federal revenue sharing funds for a police car. The board called for a public hearing on the budget July 28 to consider the request and perhaps reduce a park allocation.

Budget revision proposed

A special public hearing is to be called for 7 p.m. July 28 to determine if the federal revenue sharing budget of Namecki Township should be amended to provide financial assistance for the reactivation of the State Park Place special police unit 33-A.

At Monday night's Namecki Town Board of Auditors meeting, the board voted unanimously to have Town Clerk Douglas Tetter call a special meeting of the township's electors to decide if about $9,000 should be transferred from the revenue sharing account for township parks into a police car for the department.

Unit 33-A formerly operated with 12 men who held special deputy commissions from Madison County Sheriff John Mavraz. The department's authority was limited primarily to traffic control, but the special deputies also worked in conjunction with regular deputies in fighting all types of crimes.

The question of the legality of the special deputies and of the county's liability for the actions of the officers led the county board in July 1974 to discontinue the program and to begin studying alternate forms of using volunteers to aid in law enforcement in the populated, but unincorporated, areas of the county.

Earlier this year, Mavraz and others developed a plan to establish "assistant supervisors of safety" who would be under the control of his department. The plan met with the approval of the Madison County state's attorney, and the county's liability insurance carrier assured the County (Continued on page 1)

Resignation by Venice postmaster

Charles R. Simmons, 1205 Klein St., Venice, resigned Monday as Venice Postmaster, according to Hubert Benson, sectional center manager in East St. Louis of the United States Postal Service.

Simmons had been postmaster in Venice since November 1967.

Kenneth Weber, a supervisor of the East St. Louis sectional center, has been named "officer-in-charge" of the Venice Post Office until a new postmaster is appointed.

A Postmaster Appointment Board of the St. Louis district office will review personnel files and conduct interviews to fill the position.

The selection of a postmaster now is made on a merit promotion system from within the Postal Service, rather than by political appointment.

AMBULANCE-TRUCK CRASH. Scene of accident at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday after a tractor-trailer truck smashed into the side of a Davis ambulance on an emergency run at 20th Street and Madison Avenue. Four persons, including the driver of the ambulance, were taken to other ambulances to St. Elizabeth Hospital following the crash. This view is toward the east along 20th Street, west of Madison Avenue.

Board that the new supervisors of safety would be covered by the county's policy at no additional cost.

In May, the County Board adopted the plan, which calls for all officers of the special departments to complete at least 40 hours of training under Maeras before being appointed.

Joseph Brover, representing the old 33-A unit, requested that Nameoki and Canteen Township provide funds to allow the department to be reactivated.

He requested $9,624 from Nameoki Township to purchase a new squad car, radios and other equipment.

Boyer explained at Monday night's meeting that when the old unit was dissolved last year, the squad car was sold and the funds were used to pay off the loan remaining on the car and other bills.

"None of the money went to the policemen. We paid everyone we could, but we still owe $50 to our bookkeeper. Our radio repairman is owed about $25 and there certainly were no assets to be distributed among the members."

Boyer said the department was supported primarily by donations from businesses and individuals and by proceeds from community events.

"All that we worked hard for went down the tube with the demise of the special deputy program. We just are not going to be able to start out again with the program we had after five years of work," he said.

He added that businesses already have pledged $700 to the district this year toward operating expenses, but that a look at it and decide how you want to go back to work, but we need some funding. There is no way we could raise the money without a grant," he said.

"If the department had the car, he explained, "We feel we could be self-sustaining in the future."

He said revenue sharing from the township could be used to purchase the car, if the car's use is restricted to the portion of State Park which is in the township. He still felt our presence will be a deterrent to crime in all of State Park.

A portion of the subdivision is in Canteen Township, St. Clair County.

He described State Park Place as a "high crime area," and said "Police protection is needed. We are concerned with speeding and reckless driving. We are going to end up with some children injured or killed."

Township Auditor Lee Adams made a motion that the clerk be authorized to call for a public hearing and give 30 days notice for the hearing.

Supervisor Louis Whitsett warned Boyer that the call for a public hearing is not an "iron-clad guarantee" that the funds will be approved. "The electors may decide there is a better place for the money," he said.

Boyer said the department, if funded, will not become operational immediately. "We have to show Sheriff Maeras that we have a car and that we are a viable, workable organization. Then we will begin taking 48 hours of schooling each."

He said he felt the schooling is unnecessary, explaining, "We had our 12 men attend similar sessions two years ago and they received certificates of credit."

Whitsett told the auditors that the entire federal revenue sharing budget must be amended to make the change, the auditors should "take a good look at it and decide how you want to amend it." He said the revenue sharing should be spent as evenly as possible throughout the township.

Whitsett also said he felt additional aid may be available for the special police department after July 1 under the second year of the Community Development Grant program.

On April 20, a return on the search warrant was made before Judge Matosian and an inventory filed of the documents taken.

The court ordered the documents to be placed in the custody of the EPA until further order of the court. EPA took the documents to Springfield.

On May 1, Associate Judge Johnson, who ordered the search warrant to issue, entered an order after the company filed a motion to quash the warrant and to suppress the evidence. The order was to have the documents returned and to be searched by the clerk of the court pending a further order.

On May 2, the documents were returned by EPA to the clerk.

The motion to quash the search warrant was set for hearing on May 15, at which time counsel for the parties appeared and the court heard oral arguments. On said date, the EPA filed its memorandum in opposition to the motion, and on June 11, pursuant to agreement of counsel, the company filed its memorandum.

The company raises two issues on its motion to quash and suppress:

(1) Is the complaint on its face sufficient to establish in the mind of a reasonably cautious man that a crime has been committed by the company and the evidence of it were in the premises of the company?

(2) Did the EPA seek to further its civil investigation of the company by use and abuse of the criminal process to obtain information on the company's operations which the agency could not obtain under the Illinois Environmental Protection Act?

The company's complaint was predicated on a test performed Dec. 18, 1974, at the direction of the United States Environmental Protection Agency, and a letter and packet sent to the Illinois EPA on or about Jan. 30, 1975.

There is nothing in the complaint that the company sent the letter or packet to the EPA or that its sending was by any agent of the company, or that the sending was authorized, requested, commanded or approved by the board of directors or a high managerial agent acting in the scope of his employment.

All of the alleged facts are based on what was done, or not done, at the test on Dec. 18. The purpose of the affidavit was to obtain a search warrant to find out what was done at the test to determine if this was the company's accepted practice.

This is not a civil proceeding, but a criminal proceeding, brought to secure a search warrant based on violation of the EPA Act at the time the warrant was issued, in that the company knowingly submitted false information.

The items sought under the warrant could not be used in an administrative proceeding, but only in the trial of the criminal proceeding.

A search warrant is in the nature of criminal process. Its purpose is to aid in the detection and punishment of crime. It has no relation to the process or civil trial.

It is apparent to the Court that the penalty provisions of the Act, Title XVII Section 100, (a) relate to information required to be furnished under the Act as prescribed.

Police Department Control Regulations Section 1000 sets out the acts prohibited as to air pollution. Under Section 1000, the Board is authorized to adopt regulations.

There is nothing in the complaint stating that the company failed to comply with any provision of the act or regulations or permits.

There certainly was no proceeding pending under the enforcement provisions of the Act that has been cited.

The court concludes that since the complaint for a search warrant was not sufficient as to any criminal matter, that it could not be used as civil process to obtain the information requested.

The allegation that the company had been subjected to protracted enforcement proceedings for air pollution violation is not proper to be considered in this proceeding.

This court is not suggesting that a criminal violation could not be involved without an administrative hearing, but does say that a criminal proceeding should not be used to gain information for an administrative proceeding based on evidence gleaned from the documents obtained by the process of a search warrant.

however, that "The City of Granite City heretofore has been itself of all legal responsibilities for the past 150 years."

The City Council of Granite City is neither restrained from nor obligated to any monetary assistance to such celebration.

The resolution noted that the projects of the Bicentennial Commission named by the mayor, "shall in no way provide the projects and activities of other individuals and organizations in the city."

Treatment

Alderman Clyde Boyd, a member of the council's Pollution Plant Committee, who said that a series of meetings is anticipated soon to determine the feasibility of such a plan.

Preliminary discussions were begun Monday afternoon in a meeting of area city officials and levee district officials at the office of Gil Novotny, president of the National Levee District Association.

One of the larger users of the levee district sewage treatment system.

Attending the meeting were Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Boyd, William "Mike" Ebersold, mayor of Venice and a trustee of the levee district board, Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison, Russell Robinson, a levee board trustee, and

Boyd told the council meeting Monday night that "This proposal will take some proving studies, but it is proving feasible it may well be worth it. Including an area such as this in our treatment program could mean a substantial reduction in our present rate structure."

Massive new treatment plant operated by the levee district now provides primary treatment of sewage from Madison, Venice, National City, East St. Louis, and parts of Canteen Township in St. Clair County. The levee district, however, is under order of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to provide secondary treatment.

In March 1972 a plan advanced by the Northwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission and requested a combined secondary sewage treatment system for the levee district that would cost about $25 million at that time. The construction cost now has increased to more than $30 million.

In organizational meetings of MERT, disputes developed over leadership of the program and the quality of Madison and Venice objected to the high cost of the proposed program.

Mayor Mike Sasyk told the Press-Record after Monday's discussions that rough estimates at this time indicate Madison and Venice sewer users would pay as much as $15 per quarter, or approximately $5 per month, for sewer usage under the MERT program.

Madison and Venice users now pay $1.50 per month for average household service, or $4.50 per quarter, for primary treatment at the Landsdowne.

Although additional cost would be involved in construction of several miles of sewer line to connect the Landsdowne plant with the Granite City system, Sasyk said he believes the rate structure for Venice, Madison and National City would be far less than what would be under the MERT program which calls for construction of a new plant.

Granite City users will pay $1.50 per quarter in sewer fees when the new secondary treatment plant is completed, under a new rate structure that has been approved by the City Council.

Mayor Schuler said that a program in which a major part of the levee district sewage was given secondary treatment by Granite City would mean additional revenue sufficient to reduce the rate schedule for Granite City users.

Ebersold, representing both the city of Venice and the levee district, said he believed the connection of the Landsdowne primary treatment plant with the Granite City secondary facility would be far less costly than any new plan involving plant construction for levee district sewer users. In addition, he said, a new rate structure would be certain to benefit Granite City.

The Granite City secondary treatment plant is being built on the Granite City Army installation grounds adjacent to the primary treatment plant at a cost of $12 million. Seventy-five per cent of the cost is financed by a federal grant.

The effect of the EPA's contentions is that the complainant had a different opinion of what went on, and he was seeking data to substantiate his conclusions.

There is nothing to show that his opinion is the correct one, but only shows conclusions and inferences by him, which are not sufficient to justify a search warrant because no perjury charge could be made on what he believed or what his opinion was.

The court concludes there is nothing in the complaint for the search warrant that would constitute a violation of the Act as contained, or an offense under the Act. Therefore, the court is not required to support a warrant did not exist.

It is therefore the order and judgment of the court that the writ be issued to quash search warrant and to suppress evidence is allowed, and the search warrant is quashed.

The evidence seized is suppressed and the documents seized, and now unproduced in court, to be returned to the Granite City Steel Corp. of National Steel Div., Judge Schumann's order concludes.

Methodist youth plans Rock-A-Thon' Saturday

A rocking marathon will take place Saturday near the entrance to the Granite City store in Namooki Village Shopping Center, staged by youth from Trinity United Methodist Church who are earning funds for a working trip to Mobile, Ala.

Between eight and 10 young people expected to participate in the "rock-a-thon" have solicited sponsors who have pledged specific amounts for each hour the individual remains rocking.

The group plans to rock from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Saturday, taking a 10-minute break each hour, plus a 20-minute lunch period.

According to the Rev. Ellis H. Dugger, pastor, the youths will travel to Mobile at their own expense to help low income families in making needed repairs to homes damaged by hurricanes and other storms.

The local project is part of a program being conducted in eight sections of the U. S. in which thousands of Methodist youths are giving their time, efforts and money to aid those less fortunate, the minister said.

In addition to travel expenses, the local young people also will pay their own housing costs and meals while in the southern community.

Several rocking chairs to be used Saturday will be loaned by local furniture stores, the Rev. Dugger noted. Others will be furnished by families of the participants.

His wife, Pamela, also was admitted with a headache, pain in the left forearm and abrasions to both knees. She also was treated and released.

Y cartoons tomorrow

The Tri-City Area YMCA's "cartoon day" tomorrow will include a program of activities sponsored by the YMCA and the Granite City Fire Department.

Mike Tharp, YMCA program director, said the fire department will send an aerial truck to the festivities and park it behind the Niedringhaus Methodist Church.

Tharp said firemen will show children the truck and talk to them about fire safety.

Featured activities at the Y will include: comic book swapping, lunch swapping, popcorn-popping, a bubble-gum blowing contest, cartoon charades and swimming contests.

Admission is free for Y members and $1 for non-members.

Cartoons will be showing all day in the club room. Admission will be 50 cents for the show for everyone except those dressed as a cartoon character. They will be admitted free.

Drive a success: Children's Society to purchase and renovate its building

A buffet luncheon was held Wednesday on the lawn of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society at Alton to celebrate successful completion of a capital fund drive to purchase the agency's present building.

Noble Wyatt, campaign chairman, announced that the drive raised $38,200 to purchase and renovate the property at 1028 College Ave.

The luncheon was given to thank solicitors and contributors. Special recognition was given to McDowell Douglas employees, Laclede Steel Co. and Owens Illinois for major contributions to the fund.

The drive was headed by Wyatt with Kenneth Kloos as advanced gifts chairman. Earl Picklesimer, Edwardsville, Mrs. Frank Kraus, Granite City, William Burns, Belleville, and Mrs. Robert Baker, Jerseyville, served as chairmen for their communities.

Although the Home and Aid Society has served children and families in Southwestern Illinois since 1883, this is its first permanent home in this area.

Regional President Robert

Asphole of Edwardsville pointed out that ownership of its office will enable the agency to expand its services.

A statewide agency, the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society was founded in Southern Illinois by a young Presbyterian minister, the Rev. Martin Van Buren Van Arsdale, who was distressed by the condition of children cared for in jails and almshouses.

It rapidly spread northward throughout the state. By 1884, advisory boards had been established in Alton, Belleville, East St. Louis, Edwardsville and Jerseyville.

By 1888, the Society had eight life members, three of them from this region: Miss Harriet Haskell and Mrs. John D. Barker, both of Alton, and General W. H. Powell of Belleville.

Throughout the years, the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society has cared for dependent and neglected children.

The present Alton office of the Society is in Jersey, Madison, and St. Clair counties, including adoptive placement of infants and older children, counseling and assistance to unwed mothers, and foster care for children who cannot live in their own homes.

Dr. Asphole noted that the board is hoping to increase its services.

"We try to keep abreast of changing needs in the community, and know there are other children who need the responsible professional care the Society is able to give."

Vacations within state urged

The director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development practices what his department preaches: Joseph Pisciotte and his family are saving money and gasoline by vacationing in Illinois this year.

Instead of an extensive vacation, the Pisciottes are taking a series of weekend breaks at Illinois tourist spots and quiet retreats.

Their first trip was to the Riverview Mansion Hotel, in Golconda. Originally the home of Pope County pioneer John Gilbert, it was built in the late 19th Century and is filled with Victorian antiques, unique fireplaces, high ceilings and stained-glass windows.

Pisciotte was impressed with the way owners Joseph and "Ralph" Foster have preserved the charm of old-fashioned living while modernizing the building. "He and his efforts 'a labor of love'."

Michael Pisciotte, five years old, got a thrill out of fishing the Ohio River, which runs in back of the hotel. That and the proximity of the huge Shawnee National Forest make the Golconda area a sportsman's delight. Pisciotte's wife, Anita, their 18-month-old daughter Dena, and Mrs. Pisciotte's mother — who was visiting from Colorado — relished the scenery, shops and "peace and quiet."

Pisciotte said he is "particularly pleased with the positive results of the cooperative effort of tourist-related businesses and the

The family is anxious to see more of Southern Illinois, but before a return trip there are plans to explore the Galena and Northern Illinois area.

Pisciotte wants to cover as much of the state as possible "because times are even more interesting, with so many Bicentennial tie-ins." He concludes, "Whatever your interest, you are sure to find it within a few hours' drive from home — right here in Illinois."

Record number of physical fitness winners here

Six hundred and fifteen students from Granite City Community Unit District schools have qualified for the Presidential Youth Fitness Award, conferred by President Gerald Ford, based on records made in the annual youth fitness testing program conducted in physical education classes.

To qualify, students must score in the 5th percentile or better nationally in each of six test items and have the endorsement of their principal and physical education teachers that they are good citizens. Each received a certificate signed by President Ford and an emblem.

More than three hundred additional students were given the "Granite City Award," indicating scores of 75 per cent or better on all items.

The number of awards is the most earned by Granite City students in the 14 years the tests have been given and exceeds last year's total by more than 200.

All boys and girls in grades five and six and all girls in grades seven through twelve are given the opportunity to try for the award.

Two girls — Pat Elliott of North High School and Pat Mayfield of South High School — became the second and third students to qualify for eight consecutive years.

Those who earned the Presidential citations and their schools are:

Camping booklet charts park areas, activities

Have you been feeling a need to get away from your everyday routine? Camping is a great way to break the monotony. It's probably for this reason that thousands of people choose this kind of vacation.

The Interior Department has a publication to help you enjoy your camping trip fully and safely. For a copy of Camping in the National Park System, readers may send 65 cents to Consumer Information, Dept. 31, Pueblo, Colo. 81008.

The booklet includes a chart of national parks and the activities they offer. The listing includes length of camping season, campground type and fee, as well as availability of swimming, fishing, and boating.

It also includes the following safety advice:
Know the area — consult park brochures and maps, and ask about park attractions and hazards.
Keep your distance from wild animals — don't feed bears or other wildlife. The most common injury to park visitors from wild animals is a bite from a chipmunk, squirrel, or other rodent that is being fed at the roadside or campsite. A bite from a rabid chipmunk can be as dangerous as one from a rabid dog.

Dress sensibly — even in the heat of summer, it is often cool in the mountains or caves. If you're hiking on rough terrain, be sure to wear sturdy shoes or boots.
Notify park headquarters of your plans to explore: mountain climbing, hiking or horseback riding in remote areas; exploring caves or lake bottoms; and similar plans can be dangerous even for experts. If they know your plans, park rangers can alert you to hazards, watch for your return, and if need be, organize rescue efforts. Telling them your plans could save your life.
Don't try it alone — two heads are safer than one. Whether it's a short hike in the woods or a month-long mountain climb, a companion may save your life in an emergency.
Know your own limits — strenuous exertion in extremes of temperature or altitude can be dangerous if you are accustomed to sustained exercise.
Camping in the National Park System (65c) is among the many Federal consumer publications made available through the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration. The center publishes the quarterly Consumer Information Index, which lists almost 250 selected federal consumer publications. A free copy of the index is available from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81008, or at Federal Information Centers located throughout the country.

Delegation at Springfield

At least three bus loads of people were to go to Springfield, Ill., today to again protest the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA), according to Earl Lovejoy, a member of the Gracefield General Baptist Church.

Delegations from Mount Zion General Baptist, Cedar View Baptist, Calvary Protestant and City Temple, among other churches in Madison County also are expected to be in Springfield today.

Mrs. Phyllis Schaffly of Altoon, nationally noted opponent of ERA, spoke to a group of church members in Granite City Monday evening.
Lovejoy said he expected another visit today on ERA before the Illinois House adjourns.

Advocates of the 27th amendment (ERA) have until 1979 to get the amendment ratified by 38 of the 50 states.

Bike-A-Thon pledges top $2,000

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
The weather conditions were extreme — it was too hot (about 93 degrees), then too cold (dropping to 73). Two torrential downpours occurred, flooding the streets. Thunder boomed from low, ominous clouds, accompanied by brilliant flashes of lightning. Adding to the misery of nature's obstacle course was the wind velocity, which rose sharply during the rainstorms.

Despite the progression of unusual weather on what started out as a bright, sparkling June day, several riders in Sunday's "Bike-A-Thon" to aid the American Cancer Society actually stuck it out, right up to the designated quitting time of 5 p.m.

All were soaking wet, Joe Lucido, Granite City Cancer Crusade chairman, said this week.

Lucido said in spite of the small contingent of riders — 22 more than $2,000 will be collected from sponsors by the participating bicyclists.

The chairman also announced that contributions pledged to the "Bike-A-Thon" will push total donations in the Cancer Crusade from the Granite City area to more than $1,000 over last year's figure.

Special recognition is due eight cyclists who remained on the course, braving the wet weather until the last minute, Lucido said.

The hardy riders were Mrs. Chores Grizzard, Jim Himmelright, Linda McFarland, Charles Schaefer, Lynn Rode and James Mase and children, Dan and John.

Himmelright and Schaefer completed a total of 32 miles around the four-mile course, which started at Netheringham School at 29th and State streets, proceeded to downtown Granite City and back to the starting point.

One couple, Paul and Norma Winters, came from Jerseyville to join in the fund-raising project, Lucido said.

The 1975 Cancer Crusade chairman was assisted in organizing the "Bike-A-Thon" by Ron Luebben, Earl French, Mrs. Lily Chaboude, Mrs. Harriet Horn, Mrs. Mary Rodgers and Mrs. Mattie Pope. Many other volunteers helped to register the participants, Lucido said.

A pickup truck, provided by Don Partney Jr., traveled the course throughout the afternoon — pick up any rider who became tired, the chairman noted.

Mrs. Chaboude said several business firms provided refreshments for the "Bike-A-Thon" participants, including the Nestle Co., Schnuck's Market, Viviano's Market, Cohen's Market, Schermer's Market, McDonald's Hamburgers, J. and J. Liquors, Coral Liquors and the Tri-City Ice and Coal Co.

Upon tabulation of pledges the rider who collects the most funds from his or her sponsors will receive free a tandem bicycle donated jointly by the Western Auto Store, 29th Street and Grand Avenue, and the Granite City Steel Employees Credit Union, Lucido said.

CHARLES SCHAEFER, 52, who tied Jim Himmelright in riding the most miles (32) in the American Cancer Society's "Bike-A-Thon" held this week in Granite City. The Shell Oil Refinery employee earned $135.20 for the Cancer Crusade from Mowse Lodge 272 members, who pledged $2.60 for each mile Schaefer completed.

BIKE-A-THON CONTINGENT prepares to start the four-mile ride from Netheringham School, 29th and State streets, to downtown Granite City and back to the starting point, covering the course as many times as possible within a four-hour period. All age levels were represented in the fund-raising project to aid the American Cancer Society. Bicycles ranged from flashy 10-speed English racers to more sedate "pedal hard" models. Before the afternoon ride ended, some entrants braved high winds, torrential downpours, flooded streets and a temperature drop of nearly 20 degrees. Eight riders stayed on the course until the designated 5 p.m. quitting time.

Men's Day Sunday at Bethel A.M.E.

Charles McCaskill, coordinator of the mathematics program in the Madison School District, will be guest speaker at the "Men's Day" program at 10:45 a.m. Sunday at Bethel Methodist (A.M.E.) Church, 1039 Market St., Venice.

McCaskill will focus his remarks on the program theme "O How Good and How Pleasant it is for Brethren to Dwell Together in Unity."

The speaker is a member of Mount Nebo Baptist Church. He is a graduate of Madison High School and holds a B.S. degree from an Austin (Tex.) college and a master's degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

McCaskill is married and the father of three children.

The Rev. Ellis B. Seals is pastor of Bethel Methodist Church. Raymond Green is serving as program chairman.

Ham radio operators to train this weekend for emergencies

At Alby St. and the Beltline in Alton on Saturday and Sunday, motorists may be distracted by an array of poles, wires and directional antennas erected by the Egyptian Radio Club of Granite City.

Amateur radio operators throughout North America participate annually in the "field day" event, a contest of sorts in which two-way radio contacts are established between as many stations as possible in all parts of the world.

Only emergency power sources are used, and extra "credit" is given to participants utilizing natural energy sources, such as wind or solar power, during the 24-hour exercise.

The annual contest is one way the "hams" regularly raise their emergency operating procedures, proven vital in the past during floods and tornadoes and, more recently, around Vespa and Elyria, Ohio, in 1964. Such operations, often hastily assembled, provided the only communications in and out of Honduras for many weeks following the devastation there by hurricane Fifi.

The Egyptian Radio Club will be using members' station equipment under the club call.

letters, WSAU, in the Madison County Civil Defense emergency headquarters trailer, which was "home" for many of the operators during the early 1960s flood.

As many as three separate stations may operate continuously here, of a half-dozen made available, to contact hundreds of other participants.

Voice and Morse code transmissions will be utilized.

Since the intersection of Alby and the Beltline, Highway 111, has always been somewhat hazardous, the club's emergency coordinators, Charles L. Hartman, K8HT, and R. E. Brobst, K8HKK, are asking that the curious not impede the emergency facility from the highway. But if examination is desired, visitors will be welcomed at the site.

Children entertained at bicycle safety program

Several hundred children attended the Washington Theater Saturday for an afternoon of fun, cartoons and a feature film, all with a purpose. The purpose of the event was to emphasize to the children the importance of bicycle safety and to have them register their bikes with the police as part of "Operation Identification" and anti-theft program.

Warren Decatur, Fourth Ward alderman in Granite City and chairman of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Law and Order Committee was chairman of the event.

The children received free tickets to the movie after they appeared at their local police departments and registered their bikes.

Assisting with the special registration programs were police officers Donald Patrick of Pontoon Beach, Glen Knight of Granite City, Donald Bridick of Granite City, and Peris Smith of Venice.

In addition, those helping with the program were Christ Pashoff, member of the Chamber, Charles Vanbibber, manager of the Washington Theater, Officer Ronald Selph, Edward Reiske, executive vice-president of the Chamber, Everett Morlen, First Ward alderman, and Warren Decatur, Fourth Ward alderman.

Contributing prizes for the event were: Franklin Union, Bill Barnes Cafeteria, Cliff's Grill, Nichel Jewelry, Lender Department Store, Hudson Jewelers, Von Dee Cruise, Graham's, Dempsey-Adams, Ted's Hardware, Mod Shop, Factory Outlet Shoe Store, Commercial Office Products, First GC Savings and Loan, Granite City Press-Record, Earl's Discount Store, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, First GC National Bank, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, Bellemore True Value Store, Tri-City Grocery, State Radio, GHS, Grand Cafe, and Madison Police Unit 110.

The event was jointly sponsored by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the four local police departments, and Arthur Enterprises, owners of the Washington Theater.

Ronald Kerleys to lead farewell service Sunday

Captain and Mrs. Ronald J. Kerley will conduct farewell services at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Salvation Army Citadel, 19th Street and Grand Avenue. The public is invited to attend.

Salvation Army officials in St. Louis and Chicago jointly announced this week that Capt. and Mrs. Kerley will be transferred from Granite City effective July 2.

The Kerleys are being appointed to the command of the Army's work in Leavenworth, Kan.

The couple has served in Granite City since June 1971. During that time they have been actively involved in the organization's advancement in the Southern Madison County area.

Capt. Kerley has initiated an outreach program for unwed mothers; established a community and recreation center and has worked diligently to secure funds for a new Corps and Community Center, the officials noted.

Property for the new center has been purchased on East 23rd Street.

He also has extended the Salvation Army's work throughout the entire Southern Madison County area, whereas previously the Granite City office served only the Quad-Cities.

In addition to his Army duties here, Capt. Kerley has been active as an officer in the Quad-City Ministerial Association; and as a member of the Granite City Rotary Club, Triple Lodge 835, AF&AM; St. Elizabeth Hospital Advisory Board; Birthright, and Right to Life. He also has served as chaplain for the local Civil Air Patrol unit.

Mrs. Kerley has given leadership to senior citizens programs, the Army's League of Mercy, Women's Home League, youth groups and has served as the Corps pianist.

As a commissioned Salvation Army officer, Mrs. Kerley serves with her husband as a fully ordained minister.

The captain is a native of Topeka, Kan. Mrs. Kerley's home originally was in Marietta, Wis.

The Kerleys are the parents of two daughters, Karen Joy, 3, and Elizabeth Ann, 14 months. They have been Salvation Army officers eight years.

Prior to their Granite City assignment, the Kerleys served three years in Chillicothe, Mo., where they were instrumental in establishing a Salvation Army Day Care Center for children and a thrift store for low income families.

Both are graduates of The Salvation Army School for Officers' Training in Chicago.

Their successors, the Rev. and Mrs. E. Guy Hardin, are joining the Salvation Army officer staff.

Born in Tennessee, Rev. Hardin has served as a Protestant minister during the past quarter century in Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and South Carolina.

Nameoki ok's tax levies

New tax levies by which operating funds will be raised by local tax collection next year, were approved by the Nameoki Town Board Monday night.

The new levies will be sent to the Madison County Clerk's office and will be extended against the assessed valuation of the township to determine next year's tax rates for the township.

Approved were a levy for town fund, general assistance and municipal retirement totaling $177,262, and a levy for road purposes totaling $185,000. The town fund levy is $115,702, including $110,402 for administration and $5,300 for contingencies.

The general assistance levy is $53,000 with another $36,000 to be received from state funds. Included are $21,660 levy for administration, $22,200 for home relief (with the state to supply another $26,000), $5,300 for institutional care (with another $10,000 to come from the state), and $4,000 for contingencies.

The levy for municipal retirement for the town fund and general assistance was approved at $8,500.

The board voted to extend the general road and bridge rate from 12.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to 16.5 cents, an increase of four cents.

Law provides the board may approve or deny the increase, which is requested annually by the highway commissioner.

The board also renewed the 16.7-cent tax rate for the special hard road fund which is approved by the electors every five years. The special tax rate is in its fourth fiscal year now and will be voted on again at the end of the fifth year.

Road district levies included $88,200 for the general road fund, $65,800 for the permanent hard road fund and $9,000 for municipal retirement, all to be raised by taxation.

The general road fund levy includes $21,000 for administration, $42,000 for the maintenance of roads, $42,000 for materials, $9,800 for bridge repairs, $2,000 to purchase equipment, $10,000 for repairs to equipment, and $3,300 for contingencies.

Levies for the special hard road fund included $8,800 for the maintenance of hard roads and $77,000 for the maintenance of earth roads.

Ave., Kindergarten, Frohardt. The board also agreed to hire Miss K. Annie Clark of Aremville, Ill., as a special education visually impaired teacher, for one year only, since none of the honorably dismissed teachers qualified for the position.

Originally 20 teachers were honorably dismissed and 11 were rehired at the June 10 meeting. The dismissals originally were made because of reduced enrollment.

Delton Groothuis, immediate past president of the North High School Band Parents Club and a delegation of approximately 25 parents and students, appeared before the board to renew a request for creation of a North band auxiliary and rifle-flag bearing unit for which participants would receive credit.

A study of the proposal is being made with information to be presented to the board at a later date. Board members said they want department heads affected by the proposal to express their views in the matter before action is taken.

Resignations due to retirement were accepted by the board for Lloyd Farley, custodian; Ora Copeland, matron at South; Winifred J. Elkins, middle primary teacher at Frohardt; and Lucy Parris, high school South teacher, and a revised leave of absence for Carol A. Harkness effective until March 29, 1976, and Carol A. Skinner from Aug. 25, 1975 to June 4, 1976.

Board action also included the appointment of Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs, to prepare a budget and submit a tentative study to the board at the July meeting.

The board also appointed Heubner as the authorized agent for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund in the district, a position Victor Anderson held until his retirement.

Bob Austin, newly-elected president of the South Boosters Club, was granted permission to prepare a study for board approval of a baseball-softball complex to be located on the curve of Fehling Road, to be used by both high schools as a project for the Boosters Club.

Austin said that the field will be fenced and lighted and the organization plans to include a parking lot to accommodate approximately 175 cars and relieve the parking problem along Fehling Road.

The board voted to change the date of the regular July meeting to July 15, and to conduct only the one meeting during July. Customarily two board sessions are held monthly.

EXAMINING DAMAGED MOTORCYCLE. Donald Lucy, 56, of 2423 Woodlawn Ave., (wearing goggles), assists Granite City Patrolman Michael Henderson complete an accident report after his motorcycle skidded into the auto of Christine Kulesza, 3024 Edgewood Ave., in the 2400 block of Madison Avenue at 3:20 p.m. Tuesday. Lucy suffered injuries but declined to be taken to the hospital.

Couple defrauds motel

A woman sought as a federal parole violator and a man who also is being sought are believed to have used a stolen check to defraud the Illium-Motel, 1100 Niedringhaus Ave., of a room for one night and of $15 Monday night.

A clerk said the couple was discharged at the motel from an auto driven by another man. They said they wanted a room for three days and gave the clerk a check for $138, drawn on the Head Start Child Development Corp., Omaha, Neb. They told the clerk to hold the check until they were ready to leave, but they requested $15 for expense money and the clerk gave them the $15.

The couple left during the night without checking out or in Omaha. The $138 check was found to have been stolen and the couple is believed to have several other stolen checks in its possession.

Federal officials have joined the search for the two.

Kidnapped woman released

Miss Susan Boer, 22, who was abducted by two men in a van near Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Friday morning, was released unharmed near Benton Harbor, Mich., Monday night.

Miss Boer is from Indiana and was visiting her sister, Miss Jan Boer, 41, an STUE student. She was walking near her sister's house when two men in a red van stopped, asked directions and one man forced her to get into the van.

She said the men forced her to take some pills, but did not harm her before letting her out of the van about two miles from a state police post in Benton Harbor. She said she walked until she encountered the post accidentally.

Troopers said she was obviously "shaken" but was unharmed.

Steel jobs,
shipments are lowest since 1972

Domestic steel industry employment reached its low level in three years during April, new figures show.

According to the American
Iron and Steel Institute, 470,500 persons were engaged in production and marketing of steel during the month. That was a drop of 12,900 from March's 483,400 — and marks the lowest such employment total since March 1972, when it was 468,200.

In April, domestic steelmakers paid out $632,604,000 in wages and salaries, bringing the total of such payments through the first four months of 1975 to $2,432,000.

Total employment costs per hour for hourly employees were $2.18 in April 1975, compare with a $3.08 average for 1974 including the costs of employment benefits such as pensions, a 50-cent supplement to unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portion of saving

In April, domestic steel shipments fell to their lowest level since mid-1972.

U. S. mills sent their customers 6,955,000 tons of finished products during the month.

This was down about 249,000 tons from March's shipments of 7,204,000 tons, and was the lowest one-month shipment total since July 1972, when the industry shipped 6,875,000 tons of mill products.

Through the first four months of this year, domestic shipments were 26,443,000 tons, compared with 38,487,000 tons shipped in the same period of last year.

Imports continued to impact specialty steel markets severely in April. During the month, foreign steel accounted for nearly 30 per cent of the apparent total steel supply, and almost 26 per cent of the apparent stainless steel supply.

Tavern owners beaten

Eugene and Patricia Presley, who operate Holman's Bar, 14th and State streets, were injured by a patron who became violent when they refused to serve him more than one drink at 9:35 p.m. Wednesday, they told police.

Presley was struck with a pool cue and was knocked unconscious and Mrs. Presley was struck on the head several times with a telephone receiver after she attempted to call police, the victims said.

The Presleys reported they were working in the tavern when two brothers entered. There were no other customers at the time, Presley said he served them and told them they could have only one drink, due to previous trouble they had allegedly caused in the tavern.

One brother became angry, jumped over the bar and chased Presley to the pool table where he struck him with a pool cue, breaking the cue, police were told.

Mrs. Presley said she attempted to use the telephone and the same man grabbed the receiver from her hand and beat her with it several times.

The other brother went behind the bar and found a telephone that the Presleys kept there. He allegedly fired the shotgun into a paneled wall.

The brothers then left, after threatening to return and ransack the tavern if the Presleys reported the incident.

Presley, 43, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with cuts and hematomas to his head, but he declined treatment.

Presley suffered cuts and lumps to her head but did not go to the hospital, officials said.

Lambert findings 'seriously' wrong
A report issued yesterday by the Federal Aviation Administration in Washington, D.C., sharply criticized the first phase of a four-phase master plan study for construction of Lambert Field as St. Louis' primary airport.

It concludes that even with new technology, Lambert will not be adequate for this area's long-term needs.

The 28-page report noted that the Ralph M. Parsons Co. study contends that Lambert will be adequate to serve St. Louis through 1980 and disputes this.

The FAA said the study contains "a number of serious misstatements" concerning ground access, technology to allow decreased distances between airplanes, ability to safely control airplanes on two runways simultaneously and future impacts on noise.

The FAA endorsed conducting third and fourth phases of the study, and announced a grant of $101,581 for the completion.

President Walter Milton and Chairman Joseph Mittello reviewed plans for an annual Rotary installation dinner Friday evening at Sunset Hills Country Club. Milton and Robert Stevens attended the annual district assembly last week in Springfield.

Youth, 17, named on three theft charges

Michael Kobuth, 17, of 2729 Saratoga Ave., was stopped in the 2800 block of Edgewood Avenue Monday and has been charged with three counts of theft and one count of disorderly conduct.

He pleaded guilty in court in Granite City Monday to the disorderly conduct charge and was fined $25. He was released on a $1,000 recognizance bond on the theft charges.

Relatives of Herb Hatley, 2208 Elm St., said they were visiting Hatley and were leaving his home when they saw a youth prowling around Hatley's auto. They said the youth ran east on Elm Street.

They noticed a parcel on the sidewalk near the car and watched it until the youth returned, picked it up and ran away, they told police.

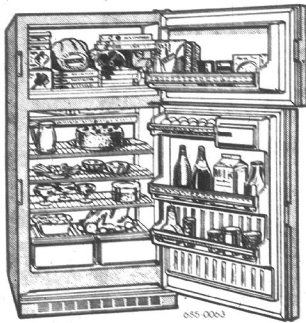

Two of the visitors chased the youth, catching him in the 2800 block of Edgewood Avenue as the youth threw the package into a yard, they reported. They said they returned him to Hatley's home and called police.

Police found the package in the yard on Edgewood and said it contained a camera and four auto tape players. Officers alleged finding a large knife, a tile cutting knife and a wrench in Kobuth's rear pocket.

Officers said they confiscated the items from the youth's pocket and from his package Monday until some of the items were identified.

Public meet on new locks, dam July 21

A public meeting to discuss findings in the recently issued draft supplement to the Final Environmental Statement on proposed replacement of Mississippi River Locks and Dam No. 26 at Alton will be held by the St. Louis District, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The meeting is set for Monday, July 21, at 1:30 p.m. in the Boulevard Room of the Jefferson Hotel, 415 N. 12th St., St. Louis.

The supplement was sent to public libraries and to various organizations, concerned citizen groups and governmental agencies for comment. Its notice of availability appeared in the Federal Register on June 20.

The meeting is being provided for persons attending to record and register their views regarding the plan.

Replacement of Locks and Dam No. 26 calls for construction of a new facility two miles downstream, and provision of two 1,300-foot locks to facilitate increased waterborne commerce and recreation traffic in the upper Mississippi and Illinois River waterways.

The old structure has smaller lock capacity.

The present locks and dam were built and placed in operation in 1858.

The meeting will offer an opportunity for all interested parties to have their comments included in the official record. Written statements may be submitted and are being encouraged for accuracy, but oral testimony also will be welcome.

Those wishing to mail their comments may do so until Aug. 5, addressing the letters to the District Engineer, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District, 210 N. 12th St., St. Louis, Mo. 63101.

Scouts learn compass reading

Univah District Scout Roundtable for June was held at Shelter 2 in Wilson Park.

As scouts arrived, Bob Patton of Troop 98 passed out a map symbols key for each scout to prepare him for the evening's demonstration.

Scouters Nick Tsigalaroff and Bob Moske of Troop 5 opened the meeting with a presentation of "Light Your Law," and repeated the scout law.

Roundtable Chairman Bob Moske announced that the Troop 1 charter is due this month; Ken Hillmer of Troop 7 has added his name to the list of Wood badge candidates; Troop 5, 28, 12, 21, 122, and 20 have enrolled new Scouts since the last roundtable; Troop 5 was a 100 per cent Boy's Life troop with its charter renewal; and Troop 7 and Troop 13 became National President's Unit Award recipients.

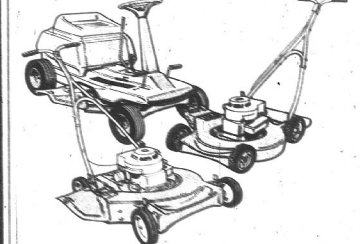

Dave Hessel of the camping committee announced the district is planning a fall camporee Oct. 17, 18, 19. The site has not been selected.

The feature presentation of the roundtable was a map and compass demonstration by Hessel of Troop 46, who used a cardboard visual aid of a compass to teach how the compass could be used in the field. All Scouts used this information in walking tour.

Still awards, merit badges, and progress awards discussions followed. From the film and the discussion, scouts became more aware of the advancement plan and how to make it work in their troops, leaders reported.

Moske reported the next roundtable will be held July 8 at Shelter 2, Wilson Park, at 7:30 p.m. The theme will be Sportmanship with the Octathlon the feature presentation. The roundtable on Aug. 12 is to be a joint meeting with the Cubbing roundtable and include a family picnic at Shelter 5 starting at 6:30 p.m. The evening training session will be a joint campfire program.

400 at BPW leadership conference

More than 400 members of Business and Professional Women's clubs in the Southern Illinois region attended a leadership conference this week at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Part of the day was spent by the committee chairmen in program planning and learning the responsibilities connected with various offices.

Attending the conference from the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club were Mrs. Rosemary Basedon, president; Mrs. Sylvia Wright, president-elect; and Shirley Adams, Ruth Walk, Lorene Sadrakula, Lois Welton, Genevieve Haddix, Judith McCann, Vera Lengyel, Anna Giese, Barbara Hodges, LaVelle Stephens, Gladys Newman and Pauline Weir.

DRIVE-IN BANKING in Madison has become popular with customers of the First National Bank in Madison as new drive-in facilities are open from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 7:30 a.m. until noon on Saturday. Mrs. Renda Reed, back to camera, is one of the drive-in bank tellers. The new facility has one commercial lane and four non-commercial lanes, using a new Tel-Air Eight tube system. The bank will hold an official "Grand Opening" celebration at 9 a.m. Thursday, July 3.

The First National Bank in Madison will host a grand opening celebration Thursday, July 3, beginning at 9 a.m. to officially open the bank's expanded drive-in units and increased parking facilities, according to Andre Gitchos, president of the bank.

Grand opening celebration for Madison bank facilities

The completed expansion of The First National Bank in Madison now provides the bank with frontage on Madison Avenue from Sixth to Seventh streets.

The grand opening activities will include a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 9 a.m., an historic flag display and free gifts for guests.

"We're very proud of our completed expansion program," said Gitchos. "We have increased our service capability and, at the same time, demonstrated our confidence in the future of the community."

An array of 12 U.S. flags from the Revolutionary War era will be on display at the bank during the grand opening. These historic flags will be flown, one each month, by the bank throughout the Bicentennial Year.

The bank will be closed July 4th, 5th and 6th, resuming regular hours on Monday, July 7, with drive-in windows opening at 7:30 a.m. and the lobby opening at 9 a.m.

Simon fighting closing of small post offices

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

A General Accounting Office (GAO) report to Congress on potential savings of $100 million a year by closing 12,000 small post offices pictures one in 10 booths sitting out in the middle of nowhere.

Whatever degree U. S. Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats is right in his current GAO findings, his hunch that Congressmen would back at the idea was correct.

Congress did in 1964 and 1967 when GAO said rural route extensions and creation of community post offices under private contract could perform the service better and cheaper than many third and fourth-class post offices.

Cong. Paul Simon, Carbondale Democrat, a member of the House Postal Service Subcommittee, thinks the GAO proposal would be as wrong today for the Postal Corporation as Congress thought twice before when the federal government delivered the mail.

Simon calls it a "separate threat to thousands of small communities throughout the nation."

"The recommendation would mean elimination of about half the 180 offices in the 42 counties I represent. An estimated 15,000 families could lose their local post office."

Simon believes the $100 million savings would be small potatoes in the Postal Corporation's $2.3 billion deficit. Is the GAO so wrong in wanting to substitute contract service for small offices to help the Postal Corporation meet its self-sustaining by 1984? If the one pictured that looks like a toolshed down the garden path is an example, Staats may not be too far afield.

This little unnamed fourth-class post office was proposed for shutdown in late 1972. It provided box delivery for 158 families at an annual operating cost of $3,423, with only $35 in revenue.

A contract rural carrier could have taken over its complete services at no extra cost.

"Postal officials agreed that there was no valid reason for continued operation of the office, but it remains open because the postmaster position is occupied," GAO said.

Congress has been fighting a four-class Illinois office in the home of a postmaster who retired. No other quarters were found for this $7,500-a-year operation ($1,300 in revenue), so its 28 families were then served by a rural route extension for about $100 annually.

Twenty-five residents said the new service was equal to the post office's and seven like it better because mail was delivered to their front gates. Staats says the National Association of Postmasters is not too keen on his idea, either. The association fears loss of membership would inhibit its activities and contributions to postal service.

"This would be true," said Frank Mikolajek, former national president and now executive director, in an interview. "We can't deny that closing 12,000 post offices would hurt the association."

Mikolajek said, however, that the postmasters disagree with GAO findings that contract stations and rural extension are an economical and effective alternative to small post offices.

"The goals are not the same," he said, arguing that private contractors are motivated by profit, and the postmasters by service.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Balzar, in his response to the GAO report, agreed that the Postal Service could better intern patron about services provided under conversion and assure them that rural delivery will provide a complete range.

He conceded that the service practices tighter restrictions in closing small offices than it legally has to under the Postal Reorganization Act.

"We observe these restrictions primarily because of the concern expressed by members of Congress about such closings."

"We concur in the view that it would be helpful if the act were amended to specifically authorize the Postal Service to close small offices if the alternative mail service would be at least just as good."

What are the prospects for such legislation out of Congress?

"Realistically," said a knowledgeable House Post Office Committee staff member, "I don't see much chance of legislation going through like that. The Postal Service itself would be hesitant because of Congressional concern."

Daniel Doneff, 65, dies

Daniel Doneff, 65, of 1014 State St., died at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Belleville Memorial Hospital. He had been ill six weeks and in the hospital eight days.

Born in Sofia, Bulgaria, Mr. Doneff lived in Granite City 62 years.

He retired four years ago as a cabinet maker at the St. Louis Fixture Co.

A member of the Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox faith, Mr. Doneff also was a member of the Carpenters' Union Local 1586, St. Louis.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna (Curilovic) Doneff; two sons, Anthony D. Doneff and John J. Doneff, both of St.

Louis; a sister, Mrs. Jesse (Violet) Harris of Granite City; three brothers, Tony Doneff of Madison, Michael Doneff of Granite City and James Doneff of Chicago; a sister, Mrs. John (Rose) Schwertmann of Granite City and seven grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Illinois history planned

Prof. Richard J. Jensen, author and historian at the University of Illinois-Chicago, has been commissioned by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) to write a history of Illinois for the 51-volume Bicentennial state history series.

NEH has now commissioned a total of 29 authors. It is in the latest allocation of grants and 11 previously chosen.

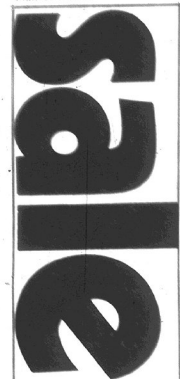

Authors for the series are selected by the American Association for State and Local History.

NEH has planned state histories for all 50 states and the District of Columbia. Authors are to produce interpretive essays characterizing the people of their states.

The essays also will show the relationship of their state's history, values and practice of democracy to those of the nation as a whole.

Jensen, besides teaching Illinois history and American social and political development at the university, is a director of the Family and Community History Program of Newberry Library.

He is the author of "The Winning of the Midwest: Social and Political Conflict, 1888-1896"; "Education and Social Structure: The Moderation of Midwestern Society, 1880-1925"; and "Historian's Guide to Statistics" in collaboration with Charles Dollar.

BOATING SAFETY program by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary is reviewed by Mayor Paul Schuler in meeting with Commander Frank Pulaski, Granite City, left, who commands flotilla 76 of Division Seven of the Coast Guard Auxiliary. Mayor Schuler proclaimed the week of June 29 through July 5 as Safe Boating Week in Granite City.

Boating safety urged

Boating safety was emphasized this week when Mayor Paul Schuler signed a proclamation designating June 29 through July 5 as Safe Boating Week in Granite City.

As part of Safe Boating Week, Commander Frank Pulaski, Granite City, of the US Coast Guard Auxiliary, offered these safe boating tips:

1. High performance boats demand responsive steering systems. Skippers should check their steering wheels for excessive slack and steering cables for signs of fraying. Your marine dealer has the equipment and know-how for tightening or replacing them.
2. It's a good idea to give your entire fuel system an inspection for signs of leaking, cracks or aging in general. Pay close attention to the connections at gas tank and engine.
3. There was a time when the buoyant cushion satisfied the leaving device requirement on pleasure boats. All that's changed now. New federal regulations require boats over 16 feet in length to carry a USCG approved, wearable device for each passenger, plus at least one throwable device — buoyant cushion or ring buoy. A buoyant cushion is still ok on boats under 16 feet in length.

Comdr. Pulaski announced he will give anyone contacting him at 876-4440 a courtesy motorboat examination. These examinations assure that the boat meets all federal requirements and additional safety requirements required by the USCG Auxiliary in order to receive the CME decal.

It assures the owner his boat is "seaworthy" at the time of inspection and is honored by the Coast Guard and most other law enforcement agencies. The auxiliary is not a law enforcement body and does not report any violations that are found, he said.

In his proclamation declaring the June 29-July 5 Safe Boating Week, Mayor Schuler said: "I urge all Americans who use our waterways to take advantage of the numerous boating safety courses offered by governmental and private organizations to help make their stay afloat as safe as it is enjoyable."

These courses, sponsored by the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, the United States Power Squadrons, the American Red Cross and various state agencies, provide the average citizen with the information needed for the safe operation of recreational boats. "I particularly urge the novice and the occasional boatman, the one who operates a small boat on only a few weekends of the year, to consider his own and his family's safety and to be prepared for the unexpected by taking advantage of the sound safety information such courses offer."

DEMOLAY LEGION OF HONOR recipients are, from left, Donald G. Adams, Robert F. Maxwell and Earl M. Potter Jr. Adams, of Granite City, and Potter, of Belleville, were awarded the Honorary Legion of Honor and Maxwell, of Granite City, received the Active Legion of Honor. The degree was conferred by the Egyptian Preceptor of the Legion of Honor, with Granite Cityans E. Gene Ross as commander in the south and C. A. "Jack" Dempsey as third preceptor, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Belleville this week.

Henry in all-star basketball July 12

Outstanding firepower is the hallmark of the Class A South team that will oppose the North in the first-ever Illinois Basketball Coaches Association all-star game on Saturday, July 12, at Illinois State University, Bloomington-Normal.

Class A teams will play at 7 p.m., with squads from the larger Class AA division meeting at 8:30 at Horton Field House.

The Class A South team will include Venice High School's Mike Henry of the state champion team. The 6-3, 150-pound center averaged 19 points and 12 rebounds a game.

Tickets are on sale at the Horton Field House athletic office. Floor level seats are $5, and balcony seats $4.

For sheer scoring power, none of the clubs matches the statistics owned by the Class A South team — the area south of Highway 36 across the state's mid-section.

Led by the 32.8 scoring average of Triad High School's Brad Droy, South players average 25.4 points per game. Henry, who didn't play organized basketball until his junior year, was an all-state tournament selection for the Red Devils.

Open golf tournament will benefit SIUE Foundation

As midsummer approaches, more and more people will become "week-enders" with the Southern Illinois University Foundation at Edwardsville, Ill., according to Charles Schweizer, SIUE Foundation executive director. "It's all in the game."

The game is golf, and the SIUE Foundation is sponsoring its second annual open golf tournament at Sunset Hills Country Club on Sunset Hills Road.

"Everybody who likes to play golf and have a lot of fun can enter the tournament," Schweizer related.

He said "Callaway" rules, to be used for the tournament, will give good golfers and bad golfers an equal chance in competing for awards. Under these rules, the final results are based on a golfer's net score, derived by subtracting his handicap from the golfer's gross score.

"One of the greatest things about the whole business," Schweizer said, "is that we are starting a new organization called the 'Beat John Henderson Club.' All players who beat SIUE President Henderson will be granted special membership."

The entry fee is $40 and includes a golf cart, green fee and a buffet dinner. Fifteen dollars of the entry fee will go to the SIUE Foundation and can be a

District free-style wrestling Saturday

Granite City High School North will host the 1975 Illinois Wrestling Federation Freestyle District wrestling tournament Saturday, beginning with weigh-ins from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Competition bouts are scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

Sanctioned by the U. S. Wrestling Federation, competition will be held in 10 weight classes: 105.5 pounds, 114.5, 121, 127, 134, 145, 155, 165, 171, 181.5 and heavyweight.

About 75 entries are expected, says Walt Whitaker, GCHS North mat mentor, from areas such as Granite City, East St. Louis, Cahokia, Lincoln, Alton, Edwardsville, Carlinville, Collinsville, Belleville and Roxana.

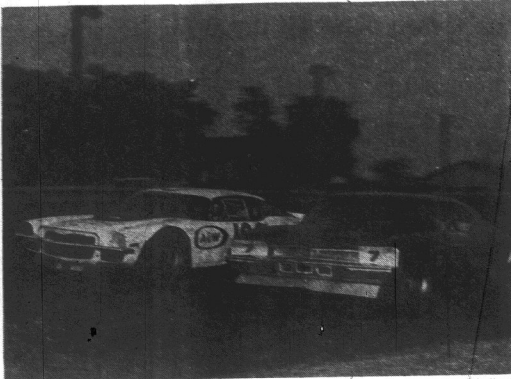

Among those expected to compete here are GCHS South's Brian Wilson, who compiled a 34-2 record in the past season as a senior Warrior and who captured first-place in 178-pound competition last week at the Mississippi Outdoor Open freestyle tournament.

Keith Whelan (GCHS North), who placed first in 104-pound competition at the outdoor tourney; Darrell Hasty (GCHS South), who was second in 143-pound class at the outdoor tourney; Don Hasty (GCHS South), first in 154-pound class at the outdoor tourney; and Jim Carmody (GCHS South), second in 154-pound class at the outdoor tourney.

Whitaker relates that the top three wrestlers in each weight class will qualify for a state tournament to be held in Chicago on Saturday, July 5.

State weight class victors earn the right to compete in a national tournament July 25-26 at Iowa City, Ia.

There is no charge for fans wishing to attend Saturday's meet here.

RUSS WALLACE of Arnold, Mo., (No. 7) will seek this Saturday to capture his first mid-season championship race for late model stock cars on the half-mile dirt oval at Tri-City Speedway. Wallace, who swept to victory in five straight feature races this season before defending champion Len Gittermeier snapped his winning streak last week, will sit on the inside pole position of the front row in the 24-car lineup for the 50-lap event. He is shown here dueling with Kenny Schrader of Ballwin, Mo.

24 late model cars in competition here

Twenty-four of Gateway Auto Racing Association's top late model stock car drivers will line their race cars on the front straightaway of the half-mile dirt oval at Tri-City Speedway here Saturday for the third annual Fallstart Summer Classic mid-season championship race.

Heading the contingent of drivers is Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo., victor in five straight feature races this season, who will attempt to capture his first 50-lap championship event.

Wallace, in 1973, caused the event to be halted at the midway point when his race car climbed the front straightaway wall, knocking out all power at the speedway. The event resumed one week later with Clyde Lindemann, who has since retired from racing, taking the checkered flag.

Last year, three-time track champion Wil Spalding of Pontoon Beach won the prestigious classic race. Rookie driver Bill Scherer placed second, eventual 1974 track champion Len Gittermeier was third, and Wallace finished fourth.

Spalding has since yielded his racing reins to his son, Terry, in the late model division.

Forty cars originally qualified for Saturday's race, but the field was narrowed to the top 24 in the point standings. The point leader, Wallace, slated for the inside of the front row.

Filling the top ten positions in the lineup, based on points earned such as this season, are: Wallace 2,610; Bill Myers 2,140; Gittermeier 1,570; C. C. Corbin 1,440; Bob Miner 1,253; Joe Northrup 1,130; Sandy Anderson 1,085; Lou Thery 860; Kenny Schrader 805 and Kevin Gundacker 630.

Of the ten, only Wallace and Gittermeier have captured feature race wins here this season. And for the first time since the inaugural running of the classic, no Granite City drivers are in the starting lineup.

The championship race will be in addition to a full sportsman class racing card, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Hurler gone to Cardinals but Fairview still gets a shutout

Tri-City American Legion Post 113 has a 3-3 record in District 22 Legion League competition after being blanked 2-0 Tuesday at Fairview Heights.

John Scott went the distance on the mound in taking the loss, but Coach Conrad Champion had praise for the GCHS North hurler: "He walked only one batter and didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning."

The host squad scored a run each of the fifth and sixth innings while Curt Krill pitched a two-hitter.

Krill is now Fairview's regular starter, filling a vacancy created by Dave Oliver, who early this week left the Legion squad upon signing a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals as the National League club's 18th round draft choice.

An 18-year-old all-state right-hander, Oliver is 6-3 and weighs 185. He was 8-5 this year for Belleville East with an 0.87 earned run average and 149 strikeouts in 89 innings.

Collecting hits for Post 113 on Tuesday were John Frickard and Paul Mushil.

Youth no handicap for motorcyclist Kirkland

Eighteen-year-old Danny Kirkland, of Millstadt, Ill. — in what many fans consider a major upset — guided his motorcycle across the finish line Tuesday evening, capturing the feature event during American Motorcycle Association-sanctioned racing at Tri-City Speedway.

Kirkland, who started his racing career at the age of 15 on indoor short track, at Belleville, defeated Phil McDonald in capturing his heat race.

He also won his semifinal event ahead of Tucson Guy McClure, and then led the 12-lap feature race from start to finish. He took the checkered flag nearly a quarter-lap ahead of second-place finisher Randy Cleek of Oklahoma, defending track champion who is a nationally ranked rider.

Other race winners were: heats — William Lebrrie, Ed Akland, Jimmie Lee, McClure, Terry Poovey, Jim Horton; consolation — Doug Abn; semifinals — Poovey and Akland.

Conference swimming relays here Saturday

The Granite City Paddlers Swim Club, 2121 Johnson Road, will host this Saturday the annual seven-team Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association conference relay championships, starting at 9 a.m.

Conference teams competing here in five age groups — 8 and under, 9-10, 11-12, 13-14 and 15-17 — will be: Dorchester (Belleville), Gaslight (Collinsville), Paddlers (Montclair), Edwardsville, Sunset Hills (Edwardsville), Summersport (Alton) and Bellefontaine (St. Louis).

The Paddlers club earned second place behind Summersport in last year's meet. Saturday's meet is one of an eight-meet schedule facing members of the local club, now in its 14th year of existence.

With two other championship meets, the schedule includes five dual events: at Gaslight, July 1; at Belleville, July 2; at Dorchester, July 3; at Summersport, July 22; and at Montclair, before July 30.

Barbara Fenton, swimming coach, relates that 94 swimmers will participate here Saturday in the relay competition.

She notes that the Paddlers Club is the only pool in this region measured in meters. All other areas are measured in feet. The local pool, 25 meters in length, will require the winning team to complete eight lengths of the pool ahead of other competitors.

Seven points are awarded to each team finishing first in each age group competition, with a championship team being decided by combining the total number of points earned in each age group.

In regular dual meet competition — individual medley, 25-50-100 meters butterfly, backstroke, breast stroke and freestyle — five points are given an individual swimmer for first place, three points for second and one point for third.

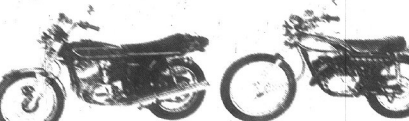

Diving competition is held only during regular meets, beginning at 5 p.m., followed at 6:15 p.m. by swimming competition.

Mr. Larry (Bill) McCormick, Granite City, is the club's diving coach and John McDermott, Granite City, directs each meet.

O'Fallon Legionnaires defeat Venice-Madison

Venice-Madison Post 307 was defeated 3-2 Tuesday in District 22 American Legion Baseball League contest at O'Fallon.

The hosts outlit the local Legion squad 10-4 and scored four runs in each of the third and fourth innings, adding a lone run in the fifth.

Post 307 did its scoring in the fifth. Steve McCunney singled, stole second and dashed home after a throw to third went over the fielder's head. Joe Pichobinski doubled and scored on a hit by Cedric Wilson.

Larry York took the loss on the mound. He was relieved in the fifth inning by Pete Piskura.

Sharp pitching helps Steelers triumph 4-1

Numeral four was the "magic" number for Post 435's Glen Carbon Steelers in an American Legion Baseball League contest with Belleville Tuesday at Belleville's Citizen Park.

The Steelers collected four hits, scored four runs and defeated Belleville 4-1, all in the fourth inning.

Greg Terrell took the win and pitched four innings, walking only two batters.

He was relieved by Bill Dickerson, who then pitched no-hit baseball in the remaining three frames. Brian McFarland was the losing pitcher.

The Glen Carbon squad threatened to jump into a big lead in the first inning, when Darrell Page and Richard Schmidt got hits and Billy Carr reached base on an error, leading the batters.

But a double play by Belleville, followed by a groundout, ended the inning.

The Steelers loaded the bases again in the fourth on hits by Larry Petri and Terrell and an error which allowed Page to reach base.

Schmidt started the scoring cycle with a single for two runs. Carr knocked home another run with a hit and another run scored on an error.

Terrell fanned 11 batters and allowed five hits. Post 435 collected a total of seven hits.

Water rate hike sought

The East St. Louis and Interurban Water Council announced Tuesday that it has filed a request with the Illinois Commerce Commission for a rate increase affecting the area served by the company.

R. W. Greaves, vice president and manager of the company, explained that the requested increase is a result of added investment in water facilities as well as higher operating costs. The requested increase would raise the average quarterly residential Low Service Area bill from $18.38 to $23.56 or approximately 28 percent per year.

It would raise the water bill for the minimum customer in the East St. Louis and Granite City areas from $12.24 to $14.85 per three months usage or approximately three cents per day.

The average quarterly residential bill for those customers living in the High Service Area would be increased from $20.71 to $25.12 or about five cents a day. The requested increase would raise the water bill for the minimum usage customer in the Belleville area from $15.08 to $15.87 for three months service or three cents per day.

"Due to steadily rising costs and the additional investment in water facilities throughout the system, the company is not realizing the earnings allowed by the Illinois Commerce Commission following the company's last petition for a rate increase," Greaves said.

"That petition was based on a test year ending Dec. 31, 1972.

The petition now being filed is based on a 1974 test year.

"From 1972 through 1974, the company has invested $5,200,000 in capital improvements. During this two-year period, operating and maintenance expenses alone have increased 17 percent.

"Notable increases include chemicals, which in some cases increased 100 per cent in cost. Fuel and power expenses have increased 35 per cent for reasons that have been well publicized.

"The company is committed to further capital improvements of over $1,200,000 to adequately insure a proper water supply for general use and fire protection.

"That petition was based on a

Comment and analysis

Each community can celebrate the Bicentennial by using fresh ideas, unselfish effort to improve quality of life

A 21-day "Honor America" salute is in progress June 14-July 4. Following is a comment by its sponsor, the American Historic and Cultural Society.

What more appropriate time to seek out the nation's philosophical foundations than now, the eve of the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence?

One hundred and ninety-nine years ago this fourth day of July, the Continental Congress adopted the resolution of independence without one dissenting vote. It meant that the 13 Colonies of America were united, free and independent.

A new nation began its great experiment under law, a written constitution.

The successes achieved since July 4, 1776, can be traced directly to the strong foundation laid by the Founding Fathers and their collective expression of an extraordinary quality of thought, speech and action.

We have much to celebrate, but we must do more than that.

Each generation has been called on to accept the challenge of a different crisis, and each generation has lived up to its responsibility.

Veeder has led GC Steel during era of major expansion

Comment by the Granite City Steel magazine—When a man of the stature of a Nicholas P. Veeder retires, the words of praise that come forth tend to come in the form of cliché—simply because there aren't enough original thoughts available that can be spoken or written about such a man.

Because it might have seemed to some to be self-serving, we have refrained during his active career from praising Mr. Veeder and giving him credit for all he has done for this company and this community. But we'll say it now—now that he will be leaving.

Cliche or not, we think Vice President Russ Solomon said it best at the Management Club's tribute to Mr. Veeder: "We are coming to the end of an era at Granite City Steel... an era whose end is called the Nick Veeder era... an era that has made Granite City Steel today the strongest enterprise it has been in its history."

We agree with Solomon's assessment of the three eras of GCS history. He called them the Niedringhaus era, the John Marshall era and the Veeder era.

The Niedringhaus era started with the founding of the company by the Niedringhaus family during the last quarter of the 19th Century.

The John Marshall era began when he joined the company as board chairman less than a month after the death of Hayward Niedringhaus in July 1949—and ended with Mr. Marshall's untimely death in April 1958. He had brought GCS unprecedented expansion, including the purchase of the

There must be a rededication to the past, an awareness of the present, and a plan for the future. We must share the same spirit and determination as those founders to solve the complex problems that lie ahead.

We need to view this great anniversary as a time to come together and to meet the challenges of the known and the unknown as we observe the birthday, honor the spirit, and begin the third century.

From one end of this nation to the other, "America is only you and me," as Walt Whitman so aptly described it.

Let's honor America by participating in this splendid birthday present to each of us from all of us. And, it will be a better place if this is done by the people from one end of the country to the other.

What can we do? Nothing sweeping and spectacular, perhaps. But it is a rare community which doesn't have unexplored problems which call for diligent citizens' participation, for fresh ideas, for a measure of unselfish works.

Accordingly, we will be more firmly bound to the country we inhabit. It will help assure the continuity of the philosophy of individual freedom and individual responsibility.

Most furnace facilities, making it an integrated steel mill.

The Veeder era ends this month. Among the many accomplishments for Granite City Steel during that era have been construction of the new BOF (basic oxygen furnace) shop and 80-inch hot strip mill, construction (with Hanna Mining) of the Pilot Knob mine and pellet plant, and the merger into National Steel Corporation.

In addition to a multitude of other civic projects, those most closely associated with Mr. Veeder are Junior Achievement, the Boy Scouts, the Mississippi River Festival and the United Way—all of which he has strongly supported for many years.

The Veeder era is unique in a way that he, himself, touched on during the Management Club tribute. He will be leaving his office in a manner no other predecessor has—by retirement. All the previous chief executives of Granite City Steel have "died with their boots on," Mr. Veeder admitted he was not unhappy about being the first to break that string.

We are all happy that he is able to leave his office in good health and with the prospect of many years of leisurely living ahead. His hard work has made that same goal possible for many others who have earned their living at Granite City Steel.

To many close friends and business associates, he was known as "Nick." While the rest, he was respectfully, "Mr. Veeder." Now that he's retiring, we all feel a little closer to the man. So maybe he won't mind if we simply say, "Well done, Nick!"

"YOU'RE THE MAFIA, YOU'RE THE CIA AND I'LL BE SENATOR CHURCH!"

Lambert plan would spend big sums but produce inadequacy

Statement by St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority.

The purpose of this statement is to provide comment concerning findings and proposals in the Master Plan (RMP) prepared by Ralph M. Parsons Co., Jan. 17, 1975, for development of Lambert-St. Louis International Airport ("Lambert Field").

This statement is to be incorporated into the transcript of the hearing with respect to such Master Plan held June 25, 1975, by the St. Louis Airport Authority and the Missouri, Louisiana and the West, St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority.

Our review of the RMP Master Plan indicates it is unacceptable as a master plan for Lambert Field. We believe that the RMP Master Plan is neither technically feasible nor environmentally sound and acceptable—and that a new airfield, airport, must be developed to meet the aviation needs of the St. Louis region.

The RMP Plan includes forecasts of aviation activity which are significantly lower than most other existing forecasts.

While recognizing that current economic conditions are a factor, we believe that RMP forecasts may well place too much emphasis on projections based on longer-term base.

In short, we do not think there is any basis for reducing St. Louis's share of total U.S. originations to the level proposed in the RMP Plan, and we also question other technical assumptions in the RMP forecasts.

The RMP Plan concluded that its proposed runway system would satisfy the required needs of the St. Louis region until around 1985.

This conclusion was based on the assumption that new technologies—including wake turbulence management and avoidance, automated metering and spacing, microwave landing systems and other new technologies—would be developed and installed at Lambert Field and will substantially expand the capacity of the runway system.

RMP merely assumed that these technologies will be available and did not consider whether the technology actually be developed successfully or, if developed, whether they will be usable at Lambert due to its unique site deficiencies.

Further, the plan failed to consider the effect of these technologies not being available as needed. It merely noted that, in such event, there would be greater delays or further restrictions on general aviation.

These issues were addressed in a study by G. H. Litchford, E. Sommermeier and M. A. Warsaw, Samples of findings and conclusions in the Litchford Report include:

1. It does not appear that wake turbulence management and automated metering and spacing will be effective in reducing materially longitudinal spacing in the time frame covered by the RMP report.

2. Wake turbulence resulting from wide body aircraft will be a continuing problem for the foreseeable future.

3. Increased spacing and a consequent decrease in capacity—due to wake turbulence—is one of the realities airport planners must live with for the foreseeable future.

4. It is not likely that the Advanced Metering and Spacing Systems will be developed and implemented prior to 1985. These systems must rely on further undeveloped or unproven devices such as DABS (Discrete Address Beaconing) and other technology. If DABS ever becomes available, it will likely be beyond the 1985 time period.

5. The capacity increases shown in the report which are dependent on advanced metering and spacing and wake turbulence management are unrealistic for the time period covered by RMP.

6. It does not seem likely that a functioning wide-body MLS can be expected earlier than the 1990-1995 period at the earliest or 11-13 years later than the period announced by RMP.

7. MLS in close association with Advanced Metering and Spacing... is a key to the RMP Plan's increased runway capacity. However, prudent planning cannot rely on the assumption that MLS will be available at Lambert Field.

Analysis indicates that MLS will not be available in time to provide the added capacity needed or, if available, that there will not be sufficient numbers of aircraft equipped with compatible on-board instruments. Further, St. Louis, because of local site deficiencies, will be low on priority of MLS installations.

8. Application of curved approaches as suggested by RMP is unrealistic.

9. Even assuming that the technological devices relied upon in the report are developed and implemented at airports within the time frame required by the RMP report, the RMP proposal ignores restrictions of the Lambert lease and the adverse effect these will have on the proper siting of new electronic devices.

The Lambert layout deficiencies are of such a serious nature that it is doubtful that a satisfactory installation of these new electronic devices can be accomplished at Lambert even assuming they could be developed and utilized elsewhere.

In summary, the Litchford study concluded that assumptions used in the master plan with respect to key new technologies upon which RMP forecasts are based are unrealistic and could not be used for prudent planning purposes.

Thus, a revised capacity analysis was made using realistic assumptions concerning the development and implementation of new technologies.

The analysis showed that the runway system would have a maximum peak hour capacity of 71 and a sustained hourly capacity of only 51 operations.

Even with implementation of the RMP plan, Lambert Field would be saturated within a few years and could not satisfy demand over the 1975-1995 period.

The analysis shows the proposed terminal area is deficient and would be substandard when compared to other airports.

The plan severely overestimated the number of equipment that can be accommodated per gate when compared to actual practice at Lambert Field.

In short, the terminals proposed in the RMP plan will be costly but nevertheless inadequate to meet the needs of the St. Louis region.

Review of the proposed high way access system in the RMP indicates that the proposed internal and external access system is totally inadequate.

Parsons' conclusion that the facilities would adequately serve the needs of the region is incorrect. Alan M. Voorhes and Associates, Inc., has indicated that the RMP proposals have many shortcomings and are unreliable. It stated:

"A close analysis of the Parsons report clearly indicates their plan would be inadequate to serve the 1985 airport ground traffic needs of the St. Louis metropolitan area."

The plan would result in increased routing of traffic and would not relieve congestion on the freeway systems.

The RMP makes numerous design problems which may be insurmountable, and may impose heavy traffic volume on the existing infrastructure.

"The recommendations for both the internal and external access system are inadequate to handle 1985 vehicular traffic to and from the airport."

It failed to take into account the increased demands, especially those vehicular demands in close proximity to the airport."

Lloyd J. Weeks, senior airport planner for Parsons, recently stated that it would be necessary to add two lanes to Interstate 20 from the airport to downtown and that Lindbergh Boulevard would be moved to be compatible with the airport.

These statements recognize some of the deficiencies in the access plan but only highlight the problem.

For example, under existing plans, I-70 was designed for expansion to only six lanes. Expansion to eight lanes as proposed by Parsons could result in the complete rebuilding of many bridges and interchanges.

Voorhes concluded that a proposal to consider an unfeasible due to high economic (from $100 to $200 million) and environmental costs.

Moving Lindbergh would involve similar obstacles. We urge the Department of Transportation and Federal Aviation Administration to examine carefully the access proposals contained in the RMP plan because close analysis shows that the plan is based on unsupportable assumptions and is unworkable.

RMP concludes that implementation of the master plan would cost $14 million. This is misleading because it omits highway expansion costs attributable to the airport—$100-$200 million—and environmental protection costs as well as other costs.

The FORUM Skyrocketing compensation costs can cause severe losses of jobs in state

To the Editor:

One definition of "coalition" is "a temporary alliance of distinct parties..." He on the alert, Mr. Businessman, for the alliance of labor and government is not temporary.

On June 17 the Illinois House of Representatives by an almost 2 to 1 margin passed Senate Bill 234-235 (Workmen's Compensation) and Senate Bill 285 (Unemployment Compensation).

Workmen's compensation costs to Illinois employers will increase by 100 per cent and the unemployment compensation cost will skyrocket by about 500 per cent.

To try to educate at this point in time the legislators, labor leaders, people and government officials on what economics, technology and business are really all about will be to no avail.

We must concentrate our efforts for the present on Governor Dan Walker and try to convince him of the fallacy of saddling industry with such heavy burdens.

We failed with the legislators, not because we didn't try; we met and talked with all of the legislative and executive officials.

To dramatize the seriousness of the economic conditions, we even staged a rally at the Capitol, even though it was repugnant to most businessmen—repugnant because business leaders are dedicated to progress based on facts, not mass hysteria.

The bombarded legislators with facts, figures and statements regarding the potential harm of such stuporous increases.

Legislators, on the other hand, seemed unconcerned about economic conditions or the effect of such legislation on industry. They seemed more concerned with turning the clock back to the 1930s than facing the realities of today.

Labor leaders, after the final vote, returned to a nearby Springfield hotel for victory cocktails.

There is no victory when labor and industry class the people, the state and the nation suffer.

But now is not the time for room or despair, either. Rather, business should re-examine its position.

Never have so few done so much for so many and been so maligned for doing it. But we can't give up. The stakes are too high.

We must defend the torch of freedom that was left to us by our forefathers or we will face a totalitarian society.

Enslavement of body, mind and soul have been fought by free-willed men since the beginning of recorded history.

We must start thinking of our commitment and how much dedication will be necessary to preserve the American way.

We must maximize our efforts to convince all people that American free enterprise is the greatest system ever devised by man for the benefit, comfort and welfare of all concerned.

We must make it clear that a free system cannot long endure if we continue at the present pace.

It can be a time for new organizations as the Illinois Chamber of Commerce and the Illinois Manufacturers' Association and others to contemplate a "coalition" of resources and manpower.

Other things, we need to start documenting the loss of jobs or potential jobs in Illinois due to unfavorable economic conditions. State government is not prepared or apparently not willing to take on this task at the present time.

Unless we supply the facts, it is becoming abundantly clear that no one else is going to do the job for us. So let's roll up our sleeves, try and preserve what we have, and get on with the task of supplying the people of this nation with all of the items that they both need and love.

To Mr. Labor Leader, we have this to say: The greatness of this country has come from many sources—from a check and balance government, from a free thinking people, from people willing to sacrifice, from dedicated businessmen, from people willing to take a chance and invest in the future.

All of these people have worked together to provide us with a house of plenty, but our system, no government can long endure minority control without the assistance of armed force.

We seem to be going rapidly toward a veto proof legislature—both state and national.

Let us hope the labor leaders of this country realize, before it is too late, what control of a "handful" can do to a nation.

Fireworks noisy, dangerous, illegal

To the Editor:

Irresponsible parents turn their children loose upon the town black and white fireworks, which are noisy, dangerous and a nuisance noise.

Some of them are the same persons I hear talk so much about "law and order" and who profess to be law-abiding citizens. Yet, their children roam our street at night in the black and white fireworks, which are noisy, dangerous and a nuisance noise.

It seems evident that these same parents will be shocked when their children grow up to break the law in more serious matters, as they will.

It is shameful that police must use their time trying to catch the cowardly lawbreakers. It is shameful that adults have no more concern for their children's safety than to unleash fireworks laden youth upon the community.

Action shows board post was vacant

To the Editor:

Every dog has his day—as the old saying goes. And I believe I've had mine.

When the Namek Township Board of Trustees met, Norman Hessler as auditor to fill his own unexpired term, I believe I've made my point.

I expected me to be present when this was done, but I did not. I am sorry, I believe I've made my point.

so the citizens of Namek Township can figure out their local government representatives for themselves.

CONSUMER LEGISLATION

—Allow used car buyers to cancel the purchase of the automobile within five days, without having the dealer make repairs to defective parts.

—Require credit reporting agencies to allow consumers to see their own files.

—Allow the courts to determine whether a consumer sale was "unconscionable" (unscrupulous) and if so, to increase as the population base increases.

The simple fact is that noise impacts from the plan are inevitable because there is, not, and will not be, any adequate noise buffer zone.

RMP would also continue and increase the air pollution problems around Lambert Field.

The limited land area prevents dispersion of airfield activities to avoid concentrations of pollutants.

The air pollution will also be increased as a result of the proposed highway system. For example, the RMP proposes the development of a new airport access freeway along I-70 and also expansion of I-70 even though the highest levels of carbon monoxide in excess of standards have been measured along the I-70 corridor.

The basic problem with the master plan is illustrated by RMP's summary of its environmental impacts on the plan.

"The airport is located in an urbanized environment; therefore, impacts will occur primarily to the human environment."

"Possible adverse impacts include: continued noise and vibration levels which exceed existing standards; and disruption of wildlife refuge area involving endangered species."

"Positive impacts include: better access to and circulation within the airport; satisfaction of demand for airport services and facilities at the time required; increased employment and revenue order the seller to cancel the transaction.

—Require prices to be marked on all consumer commodities.

—Obtain the approval of the applicant before a credit investigation is conducted.

—Order pharmacies to post the current selling prices of specific drugs.

—Require all consumers on a number of state professional licensing boards.

generation, and safer and more efficient airport operations.

It is determined that the overriding beneficial impacts resulting from the proposed master plan outweigh the adverse impacts."

This RMP summary correctly notes that there will be severe adverse impacts attributable to the master plan—noise and air pollution which exceeds standards as well as disruption of wildlife refuge area involving endangered species.

Its overall conclusion that the positive impacts outweigh the adverse impacts is totally erroneous.

Even assuming the RMP plan were feasible technically, the adverse impacts are so severe that they would not be outweighed by the assumed benefits. That delicate balancing process is hardly necessary in evaluating the adverse impacts of the plan because there are virtually no positive benefits.

Contrary to Parsons' assertions, the RMP plan won't provide adequate access to and circulation at the airport, won't satisfy demand for airport services and facilities as required, and won't be in the region's best economic interest.

Instead, due to its inherent limitations and inadequacies, it will foster economic stagnation for the area, and won't promote safer and more efficient airport operations.

In summary, the adverse environmental impacts of the RMP master plan are severe and totally unacceptable.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK PARKER, whose wedding was solemnized at the First Baptist Church of Venice. The bride is the former Miss Grace V. Hogan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hogan, 221 Kerr St.

Venice Baptist scene of Parker-Hogan nuptials

The First United Methodist Church in Venice was the scene of the wedding on June 13 of Miss Grace V. Hogan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Hogan, 221 Kerr St., and Frank H. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parker, 210 Kerr St. All are Venice residents.

The bride selected a floor-length gown of white organza designed with a tucked bodice, accented with Venice lace. Lace created the high neckline and enhanced the sheer tapered sleeves and gathered cuffs.

She wore a Juliet cap of lace to secure her bouffant veil and she carried a bouquet of daisies and carnations, intermingled with baby's breath.

Attending the bride were her sisters, Misses Earline and Anna Hogan.

They chose long dresses in blue and yellow trimmed with white lace and complemented with white picture hats. Each held a floral arrangement of daisies to match her attire.

The groom chose his brother, William Parker, as best man. Carl Hogan served as groomsmen and Earl and Barney Hogan, all brothers of the bride, were ushers.

A reception was hosted at the Venice Recreation Center following the ceremony.

The newly married couple honeymooned at the Lake of the Ozarks.

Both are graduates of Venice High School. The former Miss Hogan is employed at Monsanto Chemical Co., St. Louis. Her husband works for the United Way in St. Louis.

Bible school ends at Mount Zion

A commencement program concluded the two-week vacation Bible school this week at Mount Zion General Baptist Church. Von and Argatha Rumpf, directors, were in charge.

"Jesus Touch Me" was the theme of the daily sessions in which 435 children were enrolled.

Average attendance recorded each evening was 297 pupils, with a top figure of 333 present on a specific night, the directors reported.

Rumpf welcomed the parents and congregation members. He said as a mission project, the participating youngsters had agreed to contribute half of the offering taken during the school to the World Literature Crusade, which furnishes religious material to 210 countries.

Hymns were sung by the children and each department were given by superintendents and those with perfect attendance records were presented awards.

A movie taken during the two-week church program was shown.

The Rev. Donald Clark, Mount Zion pastor, congratulated the directors and the 32 teachers and aides who conducted the vacation Bible school.

Guests and students viewed a craft display in the sanctuary and later were served refreshments in the fellowship hall.

Top acts scheduled at Shrine circus program July 16-18

Shrine Circus time will be mid July for Southern Illinois and the Shriners of Aniad Temple are busy getting their units and parade gear ready for the two parades that precede the actual circus program. On Thursday night, July 10, more than 100 units will parade in Granite City where the event attracts nearly 30,000 persons each year for this Shrine festivity. Marshal Mark Moreton of the Aniad Divan and Granite City Parade Chairman Tom Hundley are making preparations for the Granite City parade. The following night will be the annual parade on the downtown streets of Belleville where records are set every year in the turnout for the event sponsored by the Shrine Temple. Monday, the Shrine Temple from St. Louis, will bring its units to join Aniad in this major event on Friday night, July 11, in Belleville. Most of the 36 units of Aniad will be on the street, and this means some of the units will travel more than 200 miles to make the parades. The program for the acts of the circus include the "Geraldos and the Giant wheel," Malukova, the Queen of the High Wire, "Galla Shaw" who just received the European Oscar for the best Aerial act, Eric and his comedy chimp family. The Trio Angeles of Europe and their spectacular in the sky, "Eloise's Pachyderms," and Sensational Parker who does a high aerial pole act with a circling lioness, tigers, and bears, all in the same cage under the training of Eloise Bertholds, and the elephants will be on the program. Clowns, dogs, acrobats, tight wire artist and many other famous acts are scheduled. For the first time, Aniad will entertain a large group of blind youngsters. They will have headsets so that they can listen to General Chairman Bob Hardy, Chief Rabbi of Aniad, tell them what is happening.

They will have a number of Aniad clowns to also tell them about the clown business. A large group of deaf youngsters also will be on hand on Saturday for the same matinee, so many of the viewers will be watching more than the Circus at the 2 p.m. show. Potentate William R. Popkess said he believes this year's show is a great one, and he hopes that every family in the Southern Illinois area will be able to attend. The prices are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for the children. Show times are 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 12; 1 p.m., 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 13 and 7:30 p.m. on July 14 at the Belle-Claire Fairgrounds in Belleville. The circus will not show on July 15 as it will be moving from Belleville to Tri-City Speedway in Granite City. On Wednesday, July 16, Thursday, July 17 and Friday, July 18, the circus will show at 7:30 p.m. each evening at the Granite City grounds.

Steel output lowest since late in 1971

During May, domestic raw steel production fell to its lowest point since the end of 1971. According to the American Iron and Steel Institute, mills in this country poured 9,364,000 tons of steel in May. This was the lowest one-month output figure since December 1971, when production was 8,784,000 tons. In April of this year, domestic mills made 10,667,000 tons of raw steel. During May, electric furnaces poured 1,916,000 tons of raw steel, compared to 1,824,000 for open hearth. May output from the now-dominant basic oxygen process was 6,023,000 tons. Through the first five months of this year, raw steel production had reached 54,957,000 tons. Of this total, 32,478,000 tons came from B-O-Fs, 11,399,000 tons from open hearths, and 11,080,000 tons from electric. During the same period of last year, steel output was 62,277,000 tons.

Illinois folk song contest

In recognition of the U. S. Bicentennial celebration, the Fine Arts Department of Loyola University of Chicago is sponsoring an Illinois folk song contest which runs through Dec. 31, 1975. Recipients of the $500 first place, $250 second place prize and $100 third place prize will be announced in March 1976.

Purpose of the contest is to encourage Illinois composers and authors to write the text and compose the music for one or more original folk songs dealing with any aspect of the historical, political, social or religious development of America as it relates to Illinois during the past 200 years, including the Joliet-Marquette era of exploration.

Contest rules and procedures explain that the songs will be judged on the basis of creativity, originality and sophistication of text and music and that accompaniment may be any combination of instruments or voices.

The text and music may represent the combined efforts of both a composer and an author, or both text and music may have been written by one contestant. In the case of an author-composer combination, prizes will be equally shared.

The contest required that entrants must be Illinois residents and that all songs must be the original creations of the contestants.

On or before Dec. 31, the songs must be submitted on cassettes and, when submitted, accompanied by a $2 handling fee and return address.

A typewritten copy of the text must be enclosed with the cassette, and Loyola will not assume responsibility for loss in handling.

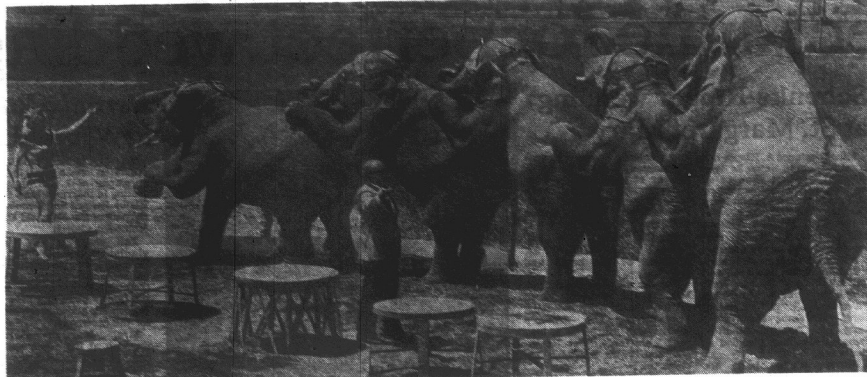

If the submissions warrant it, honorable mentions will be made.

'Brokered convention' strategy can backfire

Wall Street Journal — The presidential handicappers have begun stirring in earnest, issuing their scratch sheets on next year's morning line.

They tell us Jerry is now heavily favored to get the GOP nomination, but if he stumbles over the GNP Ronnie will close the gap.

On the Democratic side, unless Teddy runs, the morning line seems to be that there will be a "brokered convention" that will require several ballots before a nominee emerges.

The brokered convention idea, which has been accepted as received wisdom, implies that almost anyone can win as long as he (sorry, not she) is "positioned" correctly at the wire.

So we have Scoop, Moe, Lloyd, Hubert, Ed, Jimmy C. Terry S., Senator George and, of course, Governor George jockeying for position.

Julian Bond of Atlanta is openly running as a broker, saying he knows he won't win, but will deliver his delegates to the fellow who promises to do most for blacks.

The general impression of most political seers is that the Democrats are saddled with blazng mediocrities, with no one two or even three contenders clearly ahead of the pack.

What startles us even more is that none of the horses in this race is really trying to grab the lead.

With the idea of a brokered convention in mind, each is training mightily to keep himself at the precise center of the imagined political spectrum.

That way, at the appropriate time he will be able to bargain with the right and the left.

Almost by definition, the candidate most successful in keeping to the center of a shifting ideological pack is the one who doesn't stand for anything to begin with. The winner will be not the best racehorse but the best sheep.

The crowd at the center seems to collectively stand for the following: Senator Jackson is for Israel and against obscene oil profits. Morris Udall is for land reform and people who make less than $17,000 a year.

Lloyd Bensten leans toward business, labor and a little bit of government credit allocation. Senator Humphrey wants to increase the money supply a little but faster than Arthur Burns wants. Senator Muskie wants a lid on federal spending just a little higher than President Ford wants and also favors catalytic converters.

Governor Carter and Terry Sanford are the geographic centrists, each with an ideological foot on the Northern side of the Mason-Dixon line. Senator McGovern wants to send refugees, not troops, to Vietnam.

The only one of the bunch who fits our definition of a political leader, i.e. on who shapes the political spectrum instead of passively following it, is George Wallace.

Instead of aiming at the center or what he might perceive to be the center of Democratic political sentiment, the governor keeps his message loud and clear and thus pulls the spectrum toward him.

He's against welfare cheats, lazy loafers and pointy-headed bureaucrats and he's for lower taxes.

With the help of the political handicappers and their idea of a brokered convention, Wallace is now controlling the Democratic Party's political spectrum. Because it is taken as axiomatic that Wallace will come to the convention with the biggest bloc of delegates to be brokered — and because it is also assumed that he will not be able to pry loose from others the delegates he would need to get the nomination — everyone else in the race is being careful not to say or do anything to alienate Wallace delegates.

Unless another in the bunch decides he believes in something and stands for something, chances are that George Wallace will do considerably better at winning primaries and collecting delegates than is now imagined. Voters are remarkably astute at separating leaders from poll-followers.

Even liberal pamphleteers no longer really believe the Wallace attraction can be laid to latent or vestigial racism in the electorate. Though he certainly is far from our idea of a candidate who reflects the positive instincts of the American people.

Fortunately, there's still time. This after all, is only the morning line.

Between now and Nov. Hampshire, one or more of the Democratic hopefuls might yet decide to hang the political center, the polsters and the brokered convention and gamble with what's on his mind.

Study proposes taxes on non-hunters to provide habitat for non-game wildlife

Who should pay for wildlife habitat? Just the hunters and fishermen? Or should bird-watcher, photographers and other non-hunting outdoorsmen share the cost?

And how should wildlife money be spent? Mainly on game species that interest the sportsman? Or should fish and wildlife agencies pay more attention to animals that have only esthetic and ecological value?

These questions have racked and divided the conservation movement since the early 1800s. With two landmark laws, the Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration (Pittman-Robertson) Act of 1937 and the Federal Aid in Fisheries Restoration (Dingell-Johnson) Act of 1950, Congress put most of the financial burden on hunters and fishermen, requiring them to support state and federal wildlife programs through taxes on their firearms, ammunition and fishing gear.

With revenues from these taxes, the federal government has provided $600 million in matching grants to state fish and wildlife agencies over the years.

And the states have spent more than $100 million of this money acquiring 3.5 million acres of land and water for wildlife habitat.

In addition, an estimated 42 million Americans shell out about $200 million a year for state hunting and fishing licenses.

Most of the money is spent on programs designed for the people who provide it — the hunters and anglers.

But now, the National Wildlife Federation reports, two federal agencies are taking a new look at this system of taxes and expenditures.

The Council on Environmental Quality, which makes policy recommendations to the President, and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which administers wildlife policy for the Interior Department, are studying a proposal to tax non-hunting and non-fishing users of public wildlife lands — and to spend more money protecting non-game wildlife species, the animals that are not hunted or caught.

The proposal is contained in a report prepared for the two agencies by the Wildlife Management Institute, a private, non-profit conservation organization. Although it has not been made public, the WMI study has triggered a lively discussion among conservation leaders who have seen it.

Thomas L. Kimball, executive vice-president of the National Wildlife Federation, has called it "an imaginative study offering many constructive suggestions that merit serious consideration."

If its recommendations were adopted, wildlife might share more equitably in paying for the protection of badly-needed wildlife habitat.

The report points out that there has been a marked trend in recent years toward greater use of state and federal recreation lands by bird-watcher, photographers, skiers, campers and other "nonconsumptive users."

More than 12 million participate in just bird-watching and photography, according to the Interior Department.

One recommendation of the WMI report calls for the funding of non-game fish and wildlife habitat programs with federal manufacturer's excise taxes on recreational vehicles, tents, sleeping bags, lanterns, snow skis, wild bird seed, scuba diving equipment, binoculars, cameras, film and other photographic equipment.

Excise taxes of from one to ten per cent of these goods could yield as much as $19.6 million annually and easily fund a recommended $40 million federal matching grant-aid non-game wildlife habitat program with the states, according to the report.

Other suggested excise tax sources include: string, mining royalty fees, zoo admissions, non-returnable bottles, building permits; recreational stamps in the absence of hunting or fishing licenses; a surcharge of timber sales on public lands; and a one-dollar check-off on federal state income taxes.

In explaining this new funding approach, the WMI report notes that "state fish and wildlife agencies are conducting non-game programs almost entirely with funds obtained from hunters and fishermen."

"While the Institute believes that it is appropriate to use some funds from these sources for non-game work, the states' ever-present need for greater funding for traditional programs must be acknowledged and respected."

Further, all members of society, not solely hunters and anglers, are the beneficiaries of non-game programs. Hence, a broader cross-section of society must share in the costs.

The report also recommends that administrative responsibility for the expanded wildlife program be assigned to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and that Congress appropriate $5 million to enable the agency, which is part of the U.S. Department of the Interior, to initiate the program.

Other recommendations included in the report, which is entitled "Current Investments, Projected Needs and Potential New Sources of Income for Non-game Fish and Wildlife Programs in the United States," are:

— Existing programs should receive more funding, manpower and support to bring them up to standard.

— A 10-year research program should be undertaken to identify habitat requirements for key fish and wildlife species.

— All government agencies should follow their land and water management responsibilities with respect to habitat, as mandated in the Endangered Species Act.

— Efforts should be intensified to save dwindling or critical habitats for all fish and wildlife.

The Wildlife Management Institute conducted a research for the report in cooperation with the Public Affairs Information Service at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

In addition to surveying federal, state and territorial agencies, the Institute also questioned 166 educational institutions and 45 private organizations, including the National Wildlife Federation, in putting together what is believed to be the first report of its kind on fish and wildlife programs.

"The Institute considers its report and recommendations as a point of beginning," said Daniel A. Poole, Institute president.

"Programs for non-game species would continue to sputter along in the absence of such an initial baseline study. The report charts a route that can be followed to build toward an adequate national effort to manage non-game fish and wildlife."

Indict 2 in area cases

A Madison County grand jury has indicted two Quad-City men on felony charges in connection with local cases.

James R. Duke, 38, of 2218 Edwards St., was indicted on a charge of aggravated battery and his bond was set at $10,000.

Duke allegedly stopped his truck in front of the home of Bill Garrison, 1241 Poplar St., walked to where Garrison was on the front porch and struck him with a pipe.

The grand jury also indicted John C. Hand, 17, of 3801 Lake Drive, Lot 225, Footston Beach, on a charge of burglary. His recognizance bond of $7,500 was continued.

It is alleged Hand stole jewelry from the mobile home of Carroll and Joyce Kimbro, 3801 Lake Drive, Lot 352, June 5 and attempted to sell it the same day at a downtown Granite City jewelry store.

The jeweler directed Hand to another jewelry store and then called police, it was alleged. Hand was arrested at the second jewelry store as he attempted to sell the jewelry, according to police reports.

Magazine rated high

Focus magazine, student publication at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has received an all-American honor rating for the fourth consecutive year.

Photographs and editorial copy in the quarterly-produced periodical are the classroom work of SIUE journalism majors. William Ward, professor of mass communications, and Rick Wilber, instructor, were faculty advisors for the magazine issues winning the award.

The all-American award is given by the Associated Collegiate Press, an organization which rates student newspapers, magazines and yearbooks in colleges and universities across the nation.

One of the reviewers of the student work commented, "Focus continues to be visually smashing. Its pictorial coverage of your college community is comprehensive. Content is well-balanced from issue to issue."

"In-depth treatment of subjects is done effectively by the combination of many fine quality photographs and informative copy. Layouts are carefully planned and inviting. Typography is clean and readable. Photographs are the essence of Focus and they are excellent. The use of color on front and back covers is beautiful," the reviewer concluded.

In congratulating the magazine staff, he cited the way students handled human interest qualities in two features, "Disabled Students," in the October 1974 issue, and "Over 30," from the February 1975 issue.

"Disabled Students," by John Harital of Granite City and Ed Noble, depicted a disabled student's struggles to reduce obstacles on campus for wheelchair-bound students.

"Over-30," by Connie Braundmeier and Mark Rogers, dealt with older students working their way from registration to graduation.

STEPHEN STILLS, who will open the rock concert season at the seventh annual Mississippi River Festival July 1 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Michael Murphy will be a guest artist on the program, which will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Two rock concerts during first week of River Fest

The seventh annual Mississippi River Festival will be launched Monday, June 30, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with three film programs and two rock concerts scheduled in the first week.

The eight-week festival of music, dance, crafts, art and theater will continue through Aug. 30 with a total of 50 events. Most of the concerts will be at the natural 18-acre amphitheater on the north side of the campus, with tent seating for 1,850 and lawn seating for up to 20,000.

Scheduled opening night in Meridian Hall of the University Center are two films featuring "the magnificent Orson Welles," according to Lyle Ward, MRF general manager.

"The genius of Orson Welles is featured in the director's chair with 'A Touch of Evil' (1958) and in an acting role with 'The Third Man' (1949), Ward said. The films begin at 7:30 p.m.

Stephen Stills, with special guest artist Michael Murphy, will open the rock concert season Tuesday, July 1 at the MRF site. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Films also are scheduled July 1 and the following night in Meridian Hall. Titled "Laughing in the Dark," the program July 1 will include Buster Keaton's silent classic, "The General" (1926) and the best of Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy in "Pat and Mike" (1952).

The films "Red River" and "The Last Picture Show" will be shown July 2. According to Ward, "The traditional and modern American western are examined by Directors Howard Hawks and Peter Bogdanovich in these award-winning films." All of the film programs in Meridian Hall are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The first week of the MRF will be climaxed Thursday, July 3, with a rock concert by James Taylor and special guest artist, Phoebe Snow, beginning at 8:30 p.m. at the Festival site.

Ward said advance tickets, which are on sale at the University Center and 40 outlets in the bi-state area, are continuing to set sales records. Tent seats for several concerts are sold out, "but of course we always have plenty of lawn seats available in our natural amphitheater," Ward said.

The sale of coupon books, which sell for $20 and offer $25 worth of coupons redeemable for tickets to any MRF event, end July 1.

The theme of this year's Festival is "Something for everyone — where the stars come out every night." In addition to Bob Hope, Henry Mancini, Mac Davis, Peter Nero and The Osmonds, many more of the nation's best known popular, folk, rock, country, jazz and symphonic artists will be guest artists. A two-week residency by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will include six concerts. The Erick Hawkins Dance Company will be in residence a full week, with daytime classes and workshops climaxed by two evening performances.

A series of four weekly chamber music programs will be presented by well-known artists from the St. Louis Symphony and the SIUE department of music.

Other program features will include a national arts and crafts festival and a variety of film classics.

New services this year include a food service tent which can be reserved for private, catered or picnic events, and Festival assistance is available in arranging bus transportation, Ward said.

work as a member of vice and narcotic units.

The 22-year-old patrolman was valedictorian of his class at North Central Texas Regional Police Academy.

Willis received his bachelor of science degree from Hardin Simmons University, Abilene, Tex., where he majored in law enforcement and minored in sociology.

His father is a sergeant on the Granite City Police Department.

Tips on freezing snap beans

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Extension Adviser
Home Economics

Snap beans — known as green beans to most people — are a snap to freeze. For best freezing results, select young, tender, stringless beans that snap when broken. Allow about one pound of fresh beans for one pint frozen.

A few suggestions for freezing snap beans are:

Wash the beans and snap off the ends. Cut the beans into one or two inch pieces or slice them lengthwise. Put the beans into a blanching basket and lower the basket into boiling water. Cover and heat for three minutes — begin counting time as soon as you place the vegetables in the boiling water.

The purpose of blanching vegetables is to destroy enzymes and prevent undesirable changes in flavor, color, and texture.

After blanching, plunge the basket of heated beans into icy cold water to stop the cooking. It takes about as long to cool vegetables as to heat them. When beans are cool, remove them from the water and drain well.

Pack the beans into bags or other containers. A stand to hold the bags makes filling easier. Also, a funnel helps keep the sealing edges clean. Leave one-half inch head space and seal by twisting and folding back the tip of the bags and tying with a string or wire fastener. Freeze beans at once, and store them at 0 degrees F. or below. If the bags used are of materials that become brittle at low temperatures, they need an outside carton for protection. If vegetables are to be taken to a locker plant, not more than two hours should elapse between preparation — packaging and freezing. While waiting, store the beans in the refrigerator.

Karen Sue Owen becomes Mrs. Paul J. Liszewski

The wedding of Miss Karen Sue Owen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Owen, 823 Grand Ave., Madison, and Paul Joseph Liszewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Liszewski, 1017 Rhodes St., Madison, was solemnized on May 31 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

Bouquets of white carnations adorned the altar for the 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony, performed by the Rev. Maynard Billis.

James Haveranek presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Josie Diak. Nuptial selections included "Oh Perfect Love," "On This Day," "For All We Know," "Ave Maria" and "Somewhere My Love."

For her wedding, the former Miss Owen chose a white satin bridal gown designed with a high neckline, fitted bodice and long, slim sheer sleeves.

Floral lace motifs were applied at random on the gown and encircled the hemline. She wore a halo-style lace headband to secure her shoulder length veil and she carried an arrangement of mixed summer flowers and baby's breath.

The wedding attendees included Miss Beverly Owen, a sister of the bride, Mrs. Sue Burgess, Miss Nancy Forsy, the groom's cousin, and Miss Janet Dobrowski.

They wore full length gowns of yellow, pink, orange and blue with white picture hats.

The sleeveless dresses had high necklines and matching capes. Each girl held a basket of daisies and baby's breath in a color to match her attire.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Mark Liszewski. Donell Randant and Rich Vogt, cousins of the bride couple, were groomsmen. Danny Seims and Tom Liszewski, the groom's cousin, seated the guests.

Mrs. Owen, the bride's mother, selected a long pink gown and the groom's mother, Mrs. Liszewski, chose an aqua dress. Both wore orchid corsages.

A reception was held at the Polish Hall in Madison.

The newly married couple is now at home in Madison, following a wedding trip to Springfield, Ill.

Both young people graduated from Madison High School. The groom is employed at American Steel Foundries.

In Loving Memory of LARRY
FRAZIER, I miss your smile, my darling your eyes so warm and true. And in retrospect I live, the things we used to do. Seems like it was yesterday since we were close together. Sharing joy and sorrow—fair or stormy weather. What happened to the lily dreams we fashioned in the past, why did they fade so fast. I've asked myself this question over and over again. But the answer seems to hide in the next best thing. I live in memory recalling only happy times in the used to be wife and children. Mother and Father.

In Loving Memory of LARRY
FRAZIER, I miss your smile, my darling your eyes so warm and true. And in retrospect I live, the things we used to do. Seems like it was yesterday since we were close together. Sharing joy and sorrow—fair or stormy weather. What happened to the lily dreams we fashioned in the past, why did they fade so fast. I've asked myself this question over and over again. But the answer seems to hide in the next best thing. I live in memory recalling only happy times in the used to be wife and children. Mother and Father.

The auto of Henry Lueders, 2104 Yale Ave., was stolen from the rear of the Lueders Agency, 19 Namecki Village Shopping Center, and was used for numerous incidents of vandalism along Chouteau Slough Road Monday. The car later was abandoned in Kirkpatrick Homes. Witnesses to the minor vandalism incidents said two young boys with shoulder-length, dishwater-blond hair were in the auto. A witness at Kirkpatrick Homes said the car stopped in the housing project at 7:30 p.m.

Monday and one young man jumped out, threw the keys to the witness and told him to "take the car," and ran. The witness called the police.
